Terrorist Bombs Bar 11 Killed, Four Hurt

SAIGON (Reuters)—Eleven Vietnamese were killed and four American servicemen injured Monday night when a terrorist bomb exploded in a bar at Ban Thuet, 160 miles northeast of Saigon. (See Page 3.)

An American civilian government employee and two Vietnamese were shot dead while they were driving outside Saigon.

Surging Floods Rip New Hole In River Dike

CHICAGO (AP)—Mississippi River floodwaters tore a 75-foot hole Monday in a dike near La Crosse, Wis., and a gasoline storage tank complex was quickly flooded. Water began inundating the nearby La Crosse Municipal Airport.

The waters shoved a gasoline tank-filled with over 100,000 gallons—into a precarious lean. A gasoline slick quickly flamed the waters.

The water covered a five-block residential area, pushing 20 more families from their homes. It immersed under-

EMERGENCY CALL

The bureau's last phone report said the river had hit 17.1 feet at 11 a.m. and would be at 17.6 feet today. An 18-foot crest is expected to arrive Wednesday and not subside until Friday.

An emergency call for 300 additional volunteers to help fill weak spots in sandbag dikes was issued earlier in the day. National Guardsmen in the city of 47,800 began patrolling Sunday night with shouldered rifles to discourage vandals who have been stealing sand and putting out work lights.

Rolling Red River Rises Tiny Fraction

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Red River rolled along under sunny skies Monday, rising almost imperceptibly toward flood crests expected later in the week.

The official outlook became a little more optimistic during the weekend as ideal weather continued, but Premier Duff Roblin told the legislature Monday flooding of 1948 proportions still can be expected with heavy rainfalls at Emerson and Morris in the southern valley. He said the U.S. weather bureau has revised its forecast peak for Drayton, N.D., 35 miles south of the border, to 60.3 from 59.9 feet.

PEAK APRIL 24

The forecast for the border town of Pembina had been increased by three feet and the peak was expected April 24. For Emerson and Morris, estimates remained for a flood level slightly higher than that of 1948 which means two-thirds of the population will be flooded out.

The first mass evacuation went off smoothly Monday as 254 Indians from the southern Red River valley left their homes, in danger of being flooded out or isolated by rising waters.

MONDAY PICTURE

This was the picture Monday afternoon:

Emerson—The Red reached 52.2 feet above sea level, a rise of only one-fifth of a foot in five hours. Flood stage at this border town of 808 is 53.2 feet.

Morris—River level was 59.9 feet, a barely-measurable drop during the same period. Flood stage is 60.3 feet.

Winnipeg—The Red was steady all day at 20.8 feet above winter average ice level. City engineer W. D. Hurst said the city's dikes are in excellent condition. Secondary dikes protect to 24 feet, one foot above the peak expected next Saturday, and have been raised by sandbags.

Charge Against Texas Gulf:

STOCK KILLING

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission filed suit Monday against 13 officers, directors and employees of Texas Gulf Sulphur, charging that "insiders" bought the company's stock without telling the shareholders of a rich copper ore strike in Canada.

France Plans To Quit SEATO

BANGKOK, Thailand (Reuters)—France is expected to withdraw completely from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization within the next few days, usually reliable sources here said today.

France has been at odds with its SEATO allies, principally over the issue of the war in Viet Nam.

UNACCEPTABLE

The French proposal of neutralization of Indochina has been unacceptable to the United States and the two Asian allies of SEATO—Thailand and the Philippines.

The sources said an official announcement of the withdrawal was expected shortly.

ONLY OBSERVER

As a preliminary step, the French ambassador here and permanent representative to SEATO, Achille Claret, has informed the SEATO secretary-general that France will send only an observer to the forthcoming ministerial council meeting in London.

They Went Hairy In 'Space'

New U.S. Move Stalls Air Pact

MONTREAL (CP)—The United States has thrown a new monkey wrench into attempts to seal a worldwide agreement on commercial air fares.

The issue is the same one that has plagued the proposed agreement for months, namely, efforts to ban in-flight entertainment from the world's commercial carriers.

An agreement incorporating both the ban on movies and other in-flight gimmicks and the relatively unchanged fares schedule has been accepted by the 12 member airlines of the International Air Transport Association and was to go into effect April 27.

STALL CERTAIN

All that remained was the approval of member governments, often considered a formality once the airlines themselves have reached agreement.

Now, however, comes word that the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board has called hearings for May 3 to "hear representations on the question of in-flight entertainment." The announcement is certain to stall U.S. approval of the IATA agreement and thus put off again a pact originally to have gone into effect April 1.

Sources at IATA headquarters

here say the C.A.B. move will mean a new round of consultations and probably another vote of member airlines and governments to keep the current fares agreement in effect until the new one is proclaimed. The C.A.B. gave no indication when it might wind up its hearings on in-flight entertainment, thus leaving IATA with no real idea how long it will have to suspend the already overdue agreement.

'Ban on TV Not Legal'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposed ban on in-flight movies and television would violate U.S. anti-trust laws and deprive the public of legitimate entertainment, says the industrial products division of Sony Corporation of America.

Lodge Arrives In New Zealand

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters)—Presidential envoy, Henry Cabot Lodge arrived for talks with Prime Minister Keith Holyoake at Parliament Buildings shortly before 10 a.m. today.

In its complaint, SEC asked that some stock options granted by the company be cancelled and that the defendants be required to return to the corporation all shares of stock or the profits obtained from the exercise of options granted them.

The suit, filed late Monday in federal district court, New York City, named the company itself as a defendant. It charged that the firm issued a "materially false and misleading" press release April 12, 1964, discounting rumors of the find.

The SEC charged also that some of the defendants received stock options from Texas Gulf without having notified the company's board of directors of the discovery of a copper and zinc ore body near Timmins, Ont.

TRUST OFFICIAL

Among those charged were Charles F. Fogarty, executive vice-president and director of Texas Gulf; Richard D. Mollison, another vice-president, and Thomas S. Lamont, a director of Texas Gulf and vice chairman of Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, New York.

The vast Texas Gulf strike of ore containing zinc, lead, copper and silver near Timmins, Ont., was announced a year ago this month.

Amounts of ore have been placed at $5,000,000 tons and estimates of its value have ranged as high as $2,000,000,000.

Claude O. Stephens, president, said that during the last year the company's officers, directors and a number of key employees have co-operated fully with the SEC in an exhaustive investigation of all aspects of this case.

COMPANY PREPARED

Stephens said that while he had not had an opportunity to study the complaint, the company is fully prepared to show that the company's conduct has been both legally and morally correct.

Not named as defendant but mentioned in the complaint as having benefited from a second-hand tip about the stock's probable rise was Herbert Klotz, an assistant U.S. commerce secretary.

Second Body Found

TERRACE BAY, Ont. (CP)—Workmen clearing the wreckage of a passenger train which was derailed during the weekend near this northwestern Ontario community discovered the body of a man Monday in a rear diesel unit.

It brought to two the death toll in the derailment of the CPR's transcontinental passenger train, the Canadian.

Charles Kannegesser, 38, of Fort William, a CPR baggage-man, was killed and 47 persons were injured, some seriously, when the train jumped the tracks in early morning darkness Saturday.

Ontario Provincial Police in nearby Schreiber said the man found Monday was in his 50s. His identity was withheld.

The twin-diesel locomotive and nine cars of the 14-car train tumbled from the tracks after hitting a cave-in on the line. The diesel and six cars rolled down a 100-foot embankment.

Murder Suspect Commits Suicide

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Russell Spears, a wily woodsman adept at avoiding the law, died by his own hand Monday.

Spears, wanted on a charge of capital murder in the slaying of an RCMP officer, shot himself on a farm near here after being cornered by RCMP Constable George Hawkins and attacked by his dog, Prince.

The 58-year-old man, who had used his knowledge of woods-craft to dodge police for a week following the shooting of Const. Neil Bruce, 28, and a 17-year-old girl, was spotted by Mrs. Maynard Haskell as he crossed a 20-foot clearing near her house.

"It was an act of God," said RCMP Const. Ken Jones who was involved in the shooting incident that resulted in the death of Const. Bruce.

"She could not have seen him at any other spot. The area surrounding the Haskell's 29 acres of land is heavily wooded."

TELEPHONED POLICE

Mrs. Haskell's husband telephoned police at Kelowna, seven miles away and Spears was flushed out of a clump of trees by a police dog which attacked him. The fugitive put his .22-calibre rifle to his head and fired.

The time was 7:12 a.m., almost exactly the same time that the Kelowna police headquarters received a report on April 16 that Beverly Chavert was being held against her will at a cabin at Westbank, across Okanagan Lake from here.

UNABLE TO TALK

Const. Bruce and Const. Jones went to investigate. Const. Bruce was shot through the chest and the girl was shot through the jaw. The girl is in hospital here, unable to talk. She has given a written statement to police.

Since April 16 Spears was the object of an intense hunt by police using aircraft and dogs. Constables from several detachments joined the hunt, their determination bolstered by Const. Bruce's death last Wednesday.

Steelworkers Cut Down Pay Demand

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The United Steelworkers Union has asked the steel industry for a one-year contract providing a 17.9 cent an hour wage increase, it was learned Monday night.

The contract represented a "drastic comedown" from the union's original demand of about 60 cents an hour for each year of a three-year agreement, a reliable source said.

The union expected to have an answer from the industry by Thursday, the source said. The union has set a May 1 strike deadline.

Earlier Monday, union president David J. McDonald summoned the union's executive board and 170-member wage policy committee into session Thursday.

What's in a Name Anymore?

Wingless Wing Commanders

OTTAWA (CP)—A long concealed agitation within the RCAF for adoption of a new rank nomenclature has come out into the open—in the RCAF's own magazine, The Roundel.

"If integration of Canada's armed forces does nothing more than eliminate the rank titles in the air force it will have achieved much," writes Sqdn. Ldr. L. C. (Mo) Morrison, RCAF information officer at North American Air Defence Command headquarters, Colorado Springs, Colo.

He points out that there are wing commanders who don't command wings, group captains without groups, squadron leaders who have never been near a squadron and "folly of folly, a pilot officer who is a navigator."

Canadian airmen serving abroad have for years been irked by questions, not only from civilians but from NATO and other military personnel, about the meaning of their rank insignia and titles. The RCAF's insignia and titles are taken from the Royal Air Force.

Obviously any integration may eventually result in a uniform rank nomenclature as well as a single uniform for the navy, army and RCAF but that such a move isn't imminent.

NORAD headquarters has reprinted Morrison's Roundel article in its own publication and proves Morrison's point by explaining parenthetically that a squadron leader is the equivalent in rank to a major.

Killing in Stock

retary. Klotz bought calls on 2,000 shares, the complaint said.

The value of the stock has risen from less than $18 a share in November, 1963, when the SEC said, the first alleged "insider" purchases were made, to more than $70 in recent quotations.

The SEC suit was filed under a rule which makes it illegal for an officer, director or employee of a corporation to misstate pertinent facts or to fail to give pertinent facts in purchasing the firm's securities. The commission says a company's stockholders are entitled to know any facts which are known to the company's officers which would materially affect stock value.

OTHER DEFENDANTS

Resides Fogarty, Mollison and Lamont, the complaint lists as defendants:

Claude O. Stephens, president of Texas Gulf, a resident of Pleasantville, N.Y.; Richard H. Clayton, New York City, an engineer for Texas Gulf; Walter Holyst, Stamford, Conn., the company's chief geologist; Kenneth H. Darke, field geologist for Texas Gulf and a resident of Timmins, Ont.; David M. Crawford, Morristown, N.J., secretary of the company; Francis G. Coates, Houston, Tex., a director; Harold B. Kline, a vice-president and general counsel; Thomas P. O'Neill, New York, an accountant; John A. Murray, Ridge-wood, N.Y., office manager of the company; and Earl L. Huntington, Elmhurst, N.Y., an attorney for Texas Gulf.

The complaint stated that in early November, 1963, the company began exploratory drilling in a site near Timmins and obtained specimens indicating a substantial body of high grade copper and zinc ore.

The SEC said company officials arranged for the camouflage of the drill hole to prevent others from becoming aware of the location, and set in motion measures to acquire further ownership of mineral rights on the tract while absolute secrecy was maintained.

On Nov. 12, 1963, the SEC continued, Fogarty purchased 300 shares at a price slightly below $18 on the New York Stock Exchange. He and others in the company made subsequent purchases thereafter through the middle of the following April, without advising the selling stockholders of the increasingly favorable reports from the drilling site, the complaint said.

Some of the defendants notified others, and some of the latter in turn notified friends, the SEC said. It added that it was in this way that Klotz got the tip to buy Texas Gulf, the SEC said. His advice came from Nancy Atkinson, another company department employee, who had been tipped by Darke.

None of those who merely received tips from company officials or employees and acted on them was listed as a defendant.

REPORTED RUMOR

The charge against the company itself grew out of an episode which followed the publication by the New York Times on April 11, 1964, of a report of a rumor that Texas Gulf "had discovered a good deposit" 10 miles north of Timmins.

The SEC said Fogarty and a public relations man prepared a release which described the rumors as exaggerating the scale of operations and stating that the figures on the size and grade of ore were "without factual basis."

The SEC complaint said the release was false and misleading and was known to be so by several officers and employees of the company, including Fogarty, Mollison, Holyst, Darke and Clayton.

The complaint went on that Mollison, Holyst and Darke, on April 12, 1964, took a reporter for a Canadian mining newspaper to the site, described the ore find, and insisted that the story be kept secret until the company authorized the release on April 15. The story appeared in the Canadian publication on April 16, describing the discovery in glowing terms.

On the same day, a press conference was arranged in New York City at which the company released a statement giving what SEC described as the first material facts available to the public on the discovery.

After a board of directors meeting that morning, the SEC said, Lamont telephoned his bank and advised a representative of the bank to watch the ticker for favorable news about Texas Gulf.

Because of this call, the complaint said, the Morgan Guarantee Bank bought 5,000 shares of the stock, which by this time was worth about $33, for the account of certain charitable trusts which the Morgan bank managed. SEC said these purchases were made before the public report came out.

On Feb. 20, 1964, certain of the company's officers and employees, including Stephens, Fogarty, Mollison, Kline and Holyst were granted stock options by the company's board of directors. The options could be exercised at a price of slightly under $24 a share. Stephens' option called for 12,000 shares, Fogarty's 7,000 shares, Mollison's 4,300 shares, Kline's 4,300 shares and Holyst's 2,000 shares.

DIRECTORS DON'T KNOW

The SEC said none of the directors who voted to grant the option except Stephens and Fogarty was aware of the results of the drilling. The SEC said "this information had been intentionally concealed from said directors."

The report of the ore discovery in a section of Kidd Township near Timmins set off the wildest boom in modern Canadian mining history.

Cell Death Inquest Set Today

MONTREAL (UPI) — An inquest is to be held today into the jail-cell suicide of one of the Montreal figures linked to the weird plot to blow up American freedom shrines.

Gilles Legault, 31, was found Sunday night in his cell at Montreal's notorious old Boreaux jail. He apparently hanged himself with the leather strapping of his artificial leg.

White with Pistol Violated Rights

ATLANTA (UPI) — Fulton county criminal court Judge Dan Duke said Monday that the Civil Rights Act was violated when segregationist Lester Maddox refused to permit Negroes to eat at his restaurant last July.

Judge Duke, presiding over a trial in which the balding, bespectacled Maddox is charged with pointing a pistol at one of the Negroes, and the three defense attorneys argued heatedly during testimony by Maddox's son-in-law, Donald L. Dinsmore. The defense contended that the Civil Rights Act was not involved and that Maddox was being tried only on the pistol-pointing charge.

"The Civil Rights Act does indeed apply in this case," the judge said. "Mr. Maddox had no right to intimidate these three boys who were trying to get service at his restaurant."

"I as a judge would be unworthy if I didn't apply the Civil Rights Act as passed by Congress and approved by the United States Supreme Court and the Supreme Court of Georgia."

Judge Duke also said he will investigate the possibility that a witness has been threatened.

Turkey to Expel Remaining Greeks

ISTANBUL (AP) — The Turkish government said Monday it plans to expel "without exception" the remainder of the Greek nationals living in Turkey.

Premier Suat Hayri Ugru's government also said it would launch an investigation into the activities of the Eastern Orthodox Patriarchate here. Both moves stem from the Cyprus dispute.

Turkey has so far deported more than half the 12,000 Greek citizens in the country.

The decisions followed a six-hour cabinet meeting called by Ugru to discuss the status of Patriarch Athenagoras I.

Police Rout Rioters At Brighton

BRIGHTON (Reuters) — Rival groups of howling teen-agers rioted for the second successive day in this English seaside resort Monday before being routed by a mounted policeman.

Hordes of rival Mods and Rockers on scooters and motor cycles roared into the town to join 1,000 other members of the groups who spent Sunday night on windswept beaches following a number of incidents in which 25 were arrested.

More scattered incidents Monday brought the total of arrests to nearly 100, of whom 75 appeared in court Easter Monday on charges ranging from assault and obstruction to possessing drugs and dangerous weapons. Most were placed in custody pending further hearings.

Don't Evade the Issue, Find Cause of Tension

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD
(This is the last of a series of articles dealing with mental health.)

Some examples from real life, as drawn from recent letters from readers, may be helpful in providing a better understanding of emotional illness.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have severe headaches and pains in the back of my neck. I have had all sorts of tests, including brain-wave. My doctor says I am having nervous tension headaches, that he cannot cure this and I must do it for myself. Could it be from some other cause?—M. M.

Looking for some other cause is the best way NOT to cure tension headaches. To start conquering emotional problems, first admit that they exist, and that they can make heads and neck ache. The most useful possible advice to M. M. is to go back to the doctor, admit that "mind over matter" can be a powerful influence, and ask him to help identify—and ease—the tensions that are creating the problem.

KEY PARAGRAPH

From another letter, about a husband who used to drink occasionally and could "handle it," but now can't. The key may be in this paragraph:

"In the last year he has seemed to feel inferior, and he thinks nothing will go right for him. We have had an unusual number of troubles lately, but nothing, really, that we couldn't handle. I can't understand how he could change so much in such a short time..."

I won't try to say what is troubling him but I'll suggest what it could be, since it has all the hallmarks: Depression. At the very least, your husband should be examined from that standpoint.

Depression can be of utmost seriousness. But also the new psychic energizer drugs are proving remarkably effective, along with other therapies.

Now a quite different question: Dear Doctor: I am honest, all too frequently, by nightmarish, in that state I can't move a muscle. All I can do is yell in a grotesque way until someone speaks to me and calms me out of it. What causes such things and is there any help?—T. B. B.

If we suppress emotional tensions, they burst loose when we relax. Such tensions should be looked for in this type of problem. They may not be ordinary worry, but rather some buried (and perhaps unwarranted) sense of guilt, inadequacy, anger, desire or fear. This is an example of the power of hidden emotions.

'Dangerous Deadline Near'

Kosygin Warns Of Retaliation

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Kosygin accused the United States Monday of stepping up the war in Viet Nam and warned a "dangerous deadline" is near.

Hanoi Rejects Neutral Appeal

Nine Killed

Viet Cong Downs Copters

SAIGON (AP)—Viet Cong guerrillas ripped into three U.S. Army helicopters on a coastal plain 200 miles north-east of this South Vietnamese capital Monday and nine of the 12 American crew members were killed.

Monday night guerrillas shot up a village on the outskirts of Saigon and first reports indicated an American died. The village is on the highway between Saigon and Binh Hoa, 20 miles northeast of this city.

AIDING AIRLIFT
The helicopter operation was in support of an airlift of South Vietnamese troops against Communist guerrillas in Binh Dinh province 10 miles north of Qui Nhon, a supply port where 23 American soldiers died in a U.S. barracks destroyed by a terrorist blast Feb. 10.

Two of the helicopters—each manned by two officers and two gunners—plunged to earth and exploded. Military spokesmen said there were no survivors.

The third helicopter stayed aloft, but its co-pilot was shot to death. The pilot flew it to a base at Qui Nhon.

The Viet Nam policy statement—the Soviet Union's toughest to date—called for disclosures of Kremlin pledges of additional military aid to North Viet Nam, including Russian volunteers in case of need. It also appeared to lend weight to speculation that the Russians may be on the verge of setting up anti-aircraft missiles on sites reported in preparation around the North Vietnamese capital, Hanoi.

Kosygin, speaking at a Soviet-Mongolian friendship rally for visiting Premier Ushagbin Tsedenbal of Mongolia, said: "It should be borne in mind that today the United States is not the only country to possess modern types of weapons."

"The use of these or other means of warfare may invite retaliation in kind," Kosygin did not elaborate. But his words seemed intended to convey the prospect of deeper Soviet involvement in the Viet Nam conflict.

He accused U.S. leaders of talking simultaneously a peace settlement and of their determination to pursue the war to an honorable end.

'U.K. Has Lost Right to Speak'
PEKING (Reuters)—China said Monday that Britain had forfeited its right to speak on the Viet Nam and Indochina issue and this was why Peking had rejected the visit here of special envoy Patrick Gordon Walker.

An inside page commentary in the People's Daily, China's main newspaper, said Britain, co-chairman of the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina, had "never failed to support the United States in sabotaging the Geneva agreements."

CHARGES RENEWED
The Communist agency, which said it was authorized by the North Viet Nam government to make the statement, renewed charges against Johnson's proposal, calling it "a smokescreen to cover up the U.S. imperialists' new military adventures in Viet Nam."

It also ruled out any mediation role by the United Nations as "inappropriate" and contrary to the 1954 Geneva agreements partitioning Viet Nam into North and South.

The broadcast claimed that Viet Cong guerrillas now control three-fourths of South Viet Nam.

"It is clear that at the present time any solution to the South Viet Nam issue without the decisive voice of the South Viet Nam National Front for Liberation (Viet Cong) is impractical," it said.

He said the use of gas and other weapons such as phosphorus and napalm bombs "may invite retaliation in kind."

The present situation, Kosygin added in a television address, is "fraught with unforeseen consequences."

It also appeared to lend weight to speculation that the Russians may be on the verge of setting up anti-aircraft missiles on sites reported in preparation around the North Vietnamese capital, Hanoi.

Two Held In Theft Of Holed Bills

EDMONTON (CP)—One shot fired into the air by a pursuing policeman Saturday halted an attempt by two men to flee from questioning in the theft of $1-250,000 in mutilated currency from a Vancouver railway warehouse in February.

Joseph Percival, 37, and James McDougall, 32, both of Vancouver, will appear in court today on charges of possessing stolen property. Percival is a former Vancouver policeman.

FOUR INVOLVED
Police said four men were involved in the theft Feb. 11. Edmonton police, tipped by a city hotel employee who telephoned that mutilated money had been found on the premises, recovered about $12,000 of the loot.

Percival and McDougall were arrested about 9:30 p.m. after a block-long chase on foot.

Two Apologize, Nab $9,000

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police alarms were out today for two cool, apologetic bandits who pulled a $9,000 robbery at a Vancouver dairy office late Saturday, just minutes before an armored car was due to pick up the cash.

Jersey Farms Dairy supervisor Gary Morgan, 36, said he was knocked on the head with a gun butt by one of the men as the two herded Morgan, a dairy driver and a cashier into a corner and then rifled the office.

Morgan said one of the bandits—both wore dark raincoats, dairy driver's caps and sunglasses and gloves—"kept saying how sorry they were to be doing this to us but that it was a dog-eat-dog world and that we shouldn't be concerned since it was the company's money, not ours."

Morgan and the others were released 10 minutes later when

Snow, Slush, Wind

Easter Wintry in East Cities

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Snow and below-normal temperatures in some centres across Canada added a wintry touch to the Easter weekend while mishaps at other points brought an abrupt end to activities.

In Alberta and Saskatchewan, weather was cold and skies grey. Edmonton received more than four inches of snow overnight Sunday. Churchgoers in Lethbridge braved 60-mile-an-hour winds.

SNOW IN TORONTO
Between two and four inches of snow fell in Toronto Saturday and remained overnight in 12-degree temperatures, a record low for the date. But by mid-day Sunday, temperatures in the high 30s had melted most of the snow.

Thirty-degree temperatures didn't prevent 600 worshippers from attending a sunrise service on Parliament Hill.

During the 78-hour weekend, at least 32 persons died in accidents. The total equals that of the 1964 Easter weekend.

Sunday marked the end of religious services for most Christians but left a little more than a week before Eastern Orthodox Christians begin their observance of Easter. Followers of the Eastern church still use the Julian calendar, which is 13 days behind the Gregorian calendar.

Jews entered the third day of their Passover observances, commemorating the exodus of the Israelites from Egypt more than 2,000 years ago.

There was a variety of church services, including sunrise gatherings, the first Easter service in English in Roman Catholic churches and music and added frills in many Fundamentalist churches.

A Closer Union

WHEN ARTHUR BOTTOMLEY, Great Britain's secretary of state for Commonwealth relations, announced last Wednesday that the forthcoming Commonwealth prime ministers' conference in London would be asked to consider a Commonwealth parliamentary assembly it raised old hopes, once abandoned, for a closer union of the interested countries, and the creation of more realistic than nebulous ties.

Such an association of nations would be a natural development of the Commonwealth Secretariat, for which a first secretary-general will be chosen in the June session of prime ministers.

World government has been a dream of statesmen for a century; a Commonwealth parliamentary assembly could be its model. It is fitting that the idea should be reintroduced to Commonwealth countries by the representative of a nation which evolved the parliamentary system—the Mother of Parliaments, as Britain has long been known.

But the concept of a Commonwealth assembly is not any sentimental matter. It is based upon a realization that in such a union lies strength, both economic and, in emergency, military. It would provide an opportunity for leadership in a world sadly divided: leadership, incidentally, which by its own example would have universal impact and appeal.

A Commonwealth assembly, as envisaged by its advocates, would be truly democratic, with nothing about it of imperial or colonial color. It was fear of domination by Whitehall that prevented a more determined approach in the past.

As far back as 1884 there were discussions of imperial federation, but when the Imperial War Cabinet thought to prolong its life into the peace years of the 1920s, Canada reacted strongly against it for the same reason earlier moves in that direction were frustrated: fear of some insidious plan for greater imperial control from London.

Now, half a century later, the thinking is different. The major members of the Commonwealth partnership no longer have reason to suspect Great Britain's representative when he opens the door to closer collaboration. Even the newer members realize there is no threat to their independence; quite the contrary.

Although Canada's Sir Robert Borden helped smother the "peace cabinet" plan in 1921, after the dominions' eager participation in the war cabinet of the critical years, nevertheless that association clearly marked the method of advance in relationships.

"If," says the Manchester Guardian, "the Commonwealth is to survive in a meaningful form it must be given a new impetus" and "as a multi-racial grouping bridging rich and poor its preservation is a major British interest. . . The (Commonwealth) secretariat has the key to the future and until it is well established there will be no progress on the consultative assembly."

Certainly, first things first. But the idea of the Commonwealth parliamentary assembly is inspirational. Have we, and the even newer nations which are our partners, come far enough along the road of parliamentary experience to accommodate it? Here, truly, is a challenge to statecraft and an opportunity which, once missed, may never occur again.

Sprung Spring

IN A NUMBER of the Middle East countries scientists and agronomists have succeeded in making the desert bloom by piping or channeling converted sea water into the aged and sun-parched areas.

The result is that for the first time in countless centuries vast acres of once-arid lands are now producing food crops and peasant farmers can look forward to a Saturday night bath.

In distinct contrast to this remarkable example of 20th century progress is the news that New York—the world's greatest and most modern city (according to its mayor, American school textbooks and several of its residents) is facing a major water shortage this summer.

As early as the week before last New York's city fathers began their imposition of water restrictions upon resident users.

Here is a partial list of their official instructions: No watering of lawns except for three hours on Saturday. No home swimming pools and paddling areas—unless they are already filled. No traditional summer relief on the hot streets of the city—all fire hydrants will be locked. No watering of the grass in city parks and golf courses. No washing down of the city streets and no washing down of trains and buses within the city limits.

As the world's greatest and most modern city (according to its mayor, American school textbooks and several of its residents) rapidly becomes the world's thirstiest, one can almost hear New Yorkers sigh: "Oh, to be in Israel now that April's there."

Diversionsary Moves

THE harassments that the Communist authorities of Poland and the Soviet forces in Germany used to slow down traffic in Berlin under pretext of legitimate retaliation against a session of the German Bundestag in divided Berlin have troubled the international atmosphere. The German press especially has voiced concern that these moves may herald a change in Kremlin policy, since East German Communists do not dare sneeze without Moscow's permission.

An objective study of the situation will not substantiate these fears expressed by numerous commentators.

The Kremlin rarely takes half-measures. The Soviet leaders often commit errors, but certainly do not initiate a major manoeuvre by alerting their enemies. Pressures on Berlin are bound to awaken the West. If an escalation of the conflict was really planned, the protecting powers would not be given ample time to would never forgive Moscow if the Soviets wasted precious hours in pin-pricks. Under these conditions, with the whole world

by OTTO VON HARSBURG
forwarned, serious action becomes less likely every day. It is justifiable, therefore, to consider the Communist measures as a propaganda operation, with the goal either to intimidate somebody or to create a political diversion. This latter interpretation is more likely, since presently the number one Soviet concern must be the fighting in Viet Nam.

***

Moscow's attitude in the Far Eastern conflict is dominated by two considerations. On the one hand the Kremlin is happy over Peking's growing difficulties. Each aggravation of the crisis strengthens Russia's position and decreases Mao Tse-tung's pressure on the Siberian border. A war between Communist China and the U.S.A. would be a godsend to the Kremlin. On the other hand the Communists in the non-committed countries would not be given ample time to would never forgive Moscow if the Soviets wasted precious hours in pin-pricks. Under these conditions, with the whole world

The Mail-Order Gun Business

By MARQUE CHILDS

THE Treasury raiders found the inventory on the truck they had seized included 100 submachine guns, new M-14 automatic rifles, five tripod-mounted machine guns, flame throwers, several 25-pound aerial bombs, mortars and live ammunition for all weapons.

This cache in Missouri is only one of many that have come to light in various parts of the country. It was linked to something called the Counter-Insurgency Council which seems to be an offshoot of the Minutemen. The latter is an extreme right-wing group calling for final armed resistance against the Communists in and out of government who they say are about to take over the nation.

An arms underground linked to apostles of hate and more or less open advocates of violence is a fact. How extensive it is no one seems to know. So widespread has been the purchase of weapons in the South by both whites and Negroes that sober observers regard certain areas as armed camps where an uneasy truce prevails in the racial war.

Hundreds of pages of testimony have shown how these guns find their way into the hands of criminals, juvenile delinquents and psychopaths. Dodd himself testified a year ago on how the more flagrant of the mail-order houses circumvent state and local laws. He showed that three such firms ship into states having stringent firearm control laws so as to get around those laws.

Pennsylvania requires the purchaser of a concealable firearm to wait 48 hours before taking possession of the weapon. But one mail-order dealer had sent 100 firearms into Pittsburgh and over 130 into Philadelphia in a three-year period.

Over 1,500 guns were shipped into Chicago by one firm. The majority were foreign imports, the German "Rococo" at $12.95 and the British "Enfield" at $14.95. These are weapons, Dodd testified, not used by hunters nor by target shooters. They are used by juveniles and hoodlums of that city. He put into the record a photograph of a Chicago judge with weapons confiscated from teenagers piled high on his bench. The judge had said that he collected a bushel basket of weapons every 10 days.

The Dodd bills would not abolish the mail-order gun business but it would make such anonymous shipments impossible. The dealer would be required to ship weapons ordered by an individual to a reputable dealer in the area who would then be required to observe state and local laws.

But even this relatively mild proposal is opposed by the National Rifle Association. The association with its 1,125,000 members, some of them in affiliated clubs, is the principal force holding back legislation on weapons. While gun manufacturers are not under the association's rules allowed to be members, officers of the big weapons companies are active in the group. The NRA denies that it is a lobbyist organization.

The hidden arsenal with all it can mean in turmoil and bloodshed underscores the struggle to enact a comparatively mild federal arms-control bill. Senator Thomas J. Dodd (D., Conn.) has been trying for more than two years to persuade Congress to adopt a measure putting restraints on the mail-order gun business.

It may never be known when the Peking-Cairo flirtation actually began.

The first official sign was given on New Year's Day in an announcement of a Chinese loan support Nasser's Five-Year Plan. An agreement for the exchange of technological and scientific information followed 15 days later.

Next came Chou's visit to Egypt.

Experts here assume that if Chou fulfills his promise, it will still take the Egyptian dictator at least two years and strenuous efforts before his country can explode her first nuclear device.

She has one small research reactor and no uranium of her own. In view of the explosive but by most standards it qualifies.

The NRA is connected with the defence department through the Board for Promotion of Rifle Practice which makes surplus weapons available to NRA members. As an example, two years ago 150,000 M-1 .38 calibre carbines were sold for $20 plus shipping costs to certified NRA members. Last year the board sold 85,428 carbines, pistols and pre-Second World War rifles for about $1,500,000.

An army spokesman says that since the program was started in 1971 there has never been a problem of these weapons finding their way into criminal or psychopathic hands. The rule is one individual, one weapon for life and less than 50 per cent of NRA members get surplus guns. Target shooting has long been a favorite sport. The American rifle team took a gold medal at Tokyo and one team member won an individual medal.

The root of the matter then is to sort out the legitimate users from the underworld of weaponry. In the view of most observers this can only be done through federal legislation. The federal firearms act has not been amended for 30 years and is woefully inadequate to cope with the flood of weapons, many imported from abroad and sold at bargain basement prices.

After the assassination of President Kennedy Dodd's proposal got earnest attention, since it was a mail-order rifle sent to a blind postoffice box that killed the president. Interest has languished in the intervening time despite continuing pressures for reform. The Washington Post has written editorials on the need for firearms control for 58 consecutive days which must be some kind of record.

With the start of new hearings Congress may be spurred into action.

Experts here assume that if Chou fulfills his promise, it will still take the Egyptian dictator at least two years and strenuous efforts before his country can explode her first nuclear device.

She has one small research reactor and no uranium of her own. In view of the explosive situation in the middle East, it is difficult to anticipate that any nation will supply Nasser with the raw material for setting off a thermonuclear war.

He is, therefore, likely to depend on China for a great deal more than the basic formula.

And the Chinese may or may not supply it. But in any case, the acquisition of the atom secrets would afford Nasser a significant political victory and bring him a great deal closer to his nuclear dream.

The tragedy is that Israel, the densely populated, tiny nation against whom Nasser's dream warheads are directed, cannot afford to leave the final word to Peking.

Her highly trained, superbly equipped forces stand in constant readiness to meet her hostile neighbors with whom she is still technically at war. And she is thought to have developed of the journey had been booked, paid for and confirmed some two months in advance. But when they presented themselves at the airline terminal here in Delhi for the last vital flight back to Bombay on the day the Caronia was due to sail, they were told their names were not on the list.

Under scornful rebuke and with the valid tickets thrust under his nose, the official confessed that the bookings, though made, had been cancelled at the last minute. An Indian friend of the thwarted Americans has written indignantly to the papers to imply that their seats had in fact been commandeered for three ministers of the Indian government.

This sort of thing happens all the time on the air lines of India. It helps to explain the nervous twitch often evident in non-priority people obliged to fly often and at short notice across this sizable land. It would not be fair to say that such are often allotted and then unilaterally withdrawn. But it is a common form to find yourself being offered sixteenth place on the waiting list by counter clerks whose inability to oblige has given them a settled look of wooden indifference.

The fact is, of course, that this supposedly egalitarian society is ever.

However, it is also true that in a land of this size officials could scarcely hope to become familiar with the problems of their territories or do any effective work if they did not fly here and there fairly often. The times when the British could rule India from an aloof eagle's nest in the remote Himalayas supposedly egalitarian society is ever.

An Opinion from Montreal

'This Is Tragedy'

By GUYARD PELLETIER
Former Editor-in-Chief of La Presse

LEON BALZER, the Quebec leader of the Conservatives, recently quit the ranks of the party. In future, he will sit in the Commons as an independent.

"So what?" the man-on-the-street asks himself, shrugging his shoulders. "What difference will it all make? You certainly can't ask us to ferret out the meaning of each and every quarrel that erupts in Diefenbaker's tribe! Considering the rhythm with which one has followed on another during the last two years, the citizen has to resign himself to knowing nothing. If he is bent on explaining them all, it would become a full-time business; he would have no time to earn a living."

Thus, doubtless, will reason a great many ordinary Canadians uninterested in politics, but unable to make head or tail of the divisions in the Conservative party. And who could blame them? You could not ask a Quebecer, for example, to work out the differences at the other end of the country between Mr. Fulton and Mr. Hamilton, any more than you could reproach an Albertan for not understanding clearly why Mr. Valade is hanging on when Mr. Remi Paul has quit.

One would be very wrong, though, to see nothing more in Mr. Leon Balzer's resignation than another act in the comic opera that the Conservatives have been staging for years.

In fact, this time the action is a serious one, taken after serious reflection. It is a radical decision taken by a man who, by nature, is extremely moderate. It is a blunt break-away by a politician who throughout his career has operated on the triple-principle of unity, patience and compromise.

The member for Three Rivers is certainly not without reproach and it might well be said that he was not exactly fearless. Certain of his speeches on Canadian unity aroused an echo of the 20s in Quebec and the memory of a naive and almy bonhomie that consisted mainly in closing one's eyes to all problems and all injustices while proclaiming, with conviction, that Canada is a great country.

Now, it is this same man who alleges as the motive for his resignation: "The conflict has gone beyond the personality of Mr. Diefenbaker. It is the party's policy that has to be re-made. The majority of Conservative members favor a policy that dates from the 19th century. The whole of federal policy today centres on relations between English-speaking Canadians and French-speaking Canadians. Now, the majority of the members supporting Mr. Diefenbaker have nothing but contempt for French Canada and all that it represents. I can no longer suffer to be at one and the same time a French Canadian and a member of that party. I quit for honor's sake, so that I will not be ashamed to look myself in the face."

There, certainly, is a speech in which there is nothing ambiguous. There is every evidence there of the words of an exasperated man.

***

There will certainly be attempts by traditional politicians to lessen the impact of the act, and they will use every means at their disposal. The president of the Quebec Conservative Association, Mr. Jacques Bouchard, hastened to declare that the party had been "tragically mistaken" in choosing Mr. Balzer as provincial leader. Only a week earlier Mr. Bouchard attended a meeting of the Quebec executive of the party which gave Mr. Balzer its fullest support.

On a different level, you have Mr. Georges Valade, Conservative member for Montreal-St. Marie, crying, "Do you think that I will remain in a party that can be anti-French Canadian, I who have been elected in a riding that is mainly French Canadian?"

The cry comes from the heart, undoubtedly. One could ask though if it shouldn't have come from the head, and ask too, if Mr. Valade will be re-elected in his French-Canadian riding.

For, finally, even if the Bouchards, Valades and other partisans, including Mr. Diefenbaker, choose to close their eyes, everybody else isn't prepared to do the same.

***

Was it not an English-language newspaper that said: "There is no place now for the anti-Quebecism which permeates sections of the Conservative party." And was it not Mr. Egan Chambers, a former MP under Mr. Diefenbaker, who said so honestly?

"It seems to me that the Conservative party now represents the English backlash."

The truth is that Mr. Balzer's departure from the very outset goes beyond the shabby squabbles within his party.

It is quite possible that this resignation is an error, from a political point of view. One could call it untimely and claim that the member for Three Rivers almost had victory in his grasp and that he should have been patient a little longer. But this does not take the significance away from the act. It is in a real sense a tearing-away. It proves that the most moderate, the least excitable of Quebecers, if he is honest and reasonably intelligent, can no longer serve in Ottawa in Conservative ranks without feeling that he is betraying the cultural community to which he belongs.

Here it is then that one of the two great federal parties has lost the sense of Canadian federalism, the sense of the human and political reality of this country to the point where one of its own French-Canadian members finds the atmosphere unbearable.

This is tragedy, the consequences of which are not yet fully understood.

It is easy to share the fury of these Caronia passengers for whom some last-minute provision was made—and to condemn the whole system of ministerial priority. Indians themselves often ridicule their peripatetic governors, as in the cartoon showing one of them leaving an aircraft and turning to one of his numerous kilted carriers to ask "Where am I now, Bombay or Calcutta?" Local critics also make the point that the speed and frequency with which ministers fly from A to B are rarely matched by the rate at which their projects come to fruition.

However, it is also true that in a land of this size officials could scarcely hope to become familiar with the problems of their territories or do any effective work if they did not fly here and there fairly often. ### Problem in India

Trouble Over Flying VIPs

By CYRIL BURN from New Delhi

THE luxury tourist liner Caronia has lately been sailing the Indian seas, carrying—if you include bank accounts in the bill of lading—probably the richest shipload seen on the oceans since treasure fleets stopped running from the Spanish Main.

These well-heeled travellers leave their splendid ship from time to time to tour the adjacent land mass by air. Some of them did so while the ship was in Bombay and, predictably, ran into trouble.

A small group of Americans unaccustomed to frustration had planned a quick survey of the Glamorous East, Indian Division and their tickets for each leg of the journey had been booked, paid for and confirmed some two months in advance. But when they presented themselves at the airline terminal here in Delhi for the last vital flight back to Bombay on the day the Caronia was due to sail, they were told their names were not on the list.

Ballet Dancer

Victorians' Daughter With 'Royal'

Petite dancer Virginia Waleyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Waleyn, 3976 Blenheim, will dance with the Royal Ballet, when it performs at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, Wednesday.

The blonde, five-foot Miss Waleyn is 24 years old, and has danced professionally since she was 15.

She was born in Banff and had her first ballet training at the Banff School of Fine Arts.

LONDON IN 1960
She spent three years studying in Toronto, then was asked to join the Royal Winnipeg Ballet. She completed her high school education by correspondence, while working in Winnipeg.

In 1960 she joined the Royal Ballet, performing in Covent Garden.

She was the only Canadian among the 67 members of the group's No. 1 Company.

After only six weeks with the Royal Ballet she was chosen to be one of a troupe to tour the Soviet Union.

WITH NUREYEV
In the latest issue of Time Magazine, illustrating an article on ballet, is a picture of Virginia dancing with Rudolf Nureyev, Soviet ballet master who defected to Britain and now stars with the Royal Ballet.

The Royal Ballet is now on a tour of North America. The tour ends in Vancouver in July.

Canadian universities are too tightly controlled by provincial governments, former federal agriculture minister Alvin Hamilton said in Victoria during the weekend.

Mr. Hamilton said the Conservatives are working on a party policy to "liberate" universities from provincial pressure.

The policy will supply federal government aid to universities but will not control curriculum, he told a breakfast meeting of the Victoria Young Progressive Conservatives.

Tory leader John Diefenbaker will outline the party's new educational policy in the near future, Mr. Hamilton said.

WAITED TOO LONG

The prairie MP said the federal government has declined to interfere with provincial rights in education for too long.

"We can't evade the issue any longer. Just as in war, the question of victory is an issue of national survival. So in times of peace education is an issue of national survival."

Mr. Hamilton warned that victory wouldn't be easy because traditionalists in both the Tory and Liberal parties are opposing the new move.

DYNAMIC FORCE

Conservatives were emerging as a dynamic political force in Canadian politics and were developing new policies to attract urban voters.

Tories had long been strong in rural areas and now were aiming for a better city image, Mr. Hamilton also spoke of the dangers of job displacement through automation and outlined an expanded trade policy to meet the challenge.

EXPORTS NEEDED

Selling Canadian goods abroad would result in increased production, he pointed out.

But development and expansion of west coast port facilities was essential to handling the increased production.

He cited emerging nations as examples of potential new markets for Canadian goods and warned that unions and management must work together to convince governments to realize this potential.

"The real answer to automation is in expansion."

Mr. Hamilton recalled that the previous Tory government started a trade drive which almost doubled exports and caused a shortage of skilled workers in factories and mills across the country.

There was a danger Canada's growth might be curbed by restrictive policies of Finance Minister Walter Gordon.

Too Costly

More Voting Places — But Not This Year

By A. N. MURPHY

Victoria voters, who turned out in minute numbers at the last municipal elections, may have more than one place to cast their ballots sometime in the future, but it won't be this year.

Looming over city council is an estimated budget higher than that of 1964 by hundreds of thousands of dollars, and the establishment of multiple polling stations this year would be a costly move.

Speaking at a meeting of the city council legislative committee, Ald. Clyde Savage said he advocated the establishment of multiple stations but this obviously was not the year.

BETTER FACILITIES

"I do believe we should have better facilities this year, multiple stations or not," said Mayor Wilson. "What about using the McPherson Playhouse foyer or the Senior Citizens' Centre this year?"

Ald. Austin Curtis, who has made a study of the subject, pointed out that there was no real parking problem during polling at the one establishment on lower Government Street.

"We are the only city in Canada of any size that has a single polling booth system. We certainly should try to find something better this year even if it does not mean multiple polling subdivisions," said Ald. Savage.

"The way it is now people say to me 'When are we going to grow up?'" added Ald. Robert Baird.

"Of course we couldn't begin to think of having multiple sta-

Government Takeover Urged To Reduce Consumer Gas Cost

By GARY OAKES

A Victoria woman has proposed a government takeover of the province's natural gas reserves to reduce gas costs for Greater Victoria consumers.

In a letter to B.C. Hydro manager L. E. Wight, Miss Olive G. Care, 486 Grafton Street, supported the campaign by the Victoria-Vancouver Island branch of the Canadian Restaurant Association to have lower gas prices for local consumers.

A former longtime Alberta resident, Miss Care wrote that she and most other former Prairie residents prefer gas to any other fuel.

But she couldn't understand why the province doesn't acquire some of the natural gas property now leased to speculating firms in order to make "a B.C. product available to Canadians here in B.C."

Mr. Wight, who says he will answer her letter this week, pointed out Monday that the question of takeover is a matter of government policy.

Greater Victoria consumers

now use butane which is shipped; gas here would not be possible to the Island via PGE and barge, until an adequate underwater Mr. Wight said piping natural pipeline can be designed.

Williston Tells Americans

Province Seeks Share Of Pacific Markets

B.C. is looking for a share of the immense potential market in countries on the Pacific rim, says Resources Minister Ray Williston.

In a speech prepared for presentation in Los Angeles, Mr. Williston said expansion of secondary industry in B.C. at present is governed by three factors.

These are the population growth of western Canada, the needs of primary industries, and the height of the tariff wall between Canada and the U.S.

But he said B.C. is eager to share in the potential markets of Pacific rim countries.

"We are already doing something about it," he said.

Mr. Williston will accompany Premier Bennett and four other cabinet ministers on a trade mission to Japan and Hong Kong at the end of next month.

Exhibitors may record their entries by telephoning Mrs. W. G. Richmond, 656-2471; Mrs. P. L. Elton, 656-1820; Mrs. C. F. Hunt, 656-1667.

All entries must be in by Thursday.

Sanacha Hall will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday and from 8 a.m. the day of the show for entrants to arrange exhibits.

Door prizes will be drawn on the hour at 3 p.m., 4 p.m., 7 p.m. and 8 p.m.

An earthquake Sunday evening centered about 100 miles west of Port Hardy was "fairly normal" for the area, Dominion Astrophysical Observatory seismologist Dr. William Milne said Monday.

He said about 80 tremors have occurred in the area in the past three years. The Richter scale intensity was 5.5 compared to a reading of more than 8 for the Good Friday quake in Alaska last year.

Johnston Terminals Limited had a better year in 1964 with net income of $184,866 ($1 a common share). This compared with $11,700 in 1963 when the earnings were exhausted after paying the dividend on the first preferred shares.

R. Murray Brink, president of the Vancouver-based distributing and transport firm, which has Heaney's and Brays as a Victoria division, said the 1964 earnings were bolstered by the disposal of the company's interest in City Construction Co. Ltd.

Also a net gain of $25,679 was made on disposal of interest in Vancouver Wharves Ltd., and the sale of three parcels of surplus Victoria real estate.

Mr. Brink said the company now has acquired sufficient property near its new Heaney division property on Douglas Street to enable it to consolidate all its Victoria operations into one place.

An increase of 17 per cent in the volume of business done by the chartered banks in the Victoria area is reported by the Canadian Bankers Association during the first three months of 1965.

The three months total of debits to individual bank accounts is $359,500,000 compared with $734,400,000 in the first three months of 1964.

The March total was $326,100,000 against the corresponding month of 1964 when debits amounted to $266,400,000.

Coin Down, Beer Down

GLASGOW, Scotland — Truck driver Cyril Sykes, 21, tossed a half-crown 155 cents to decide who should pay for his beer in a Darlington, England, pub — and the coin disappeared. Someone else paid. ## Go for action in the MGB

The MGB photographed at high speed in the Moss corner at Canada's famous Mosport track.

Hairpin turn. Needle at 65. Now, watch how beautifully the MGB holds the track!

Read how the MGB can outperform bigger, costlier sports cars... with power and handling qualities perfected through 35 years of international racing experience.

Racing speed through a tight turn. Here's where a sports car really shows its breeding... and the MGB performed like a champion when put to this challenging test.

A high-speed camera was set up at the tricky Moss corner at Canada's Mosport track. A competition driver took the MGB's wheel. Down the chute at 95. Gear down. Hard on the brakes, then in and through the hairpin at 65. In a perfectly controlled drift, the MGB held the track beautifully right through the turn!

How can the MGB gun through a corner that slows bigger, heavier cars down to a walk by comparison? BMC does it with the perfect combination of top performance features—rack-and-pinion steering, disc brakes, close-ratio gearbox. If you can find a sports car with performance features to equal the MGB's, go buy it... but be prepared to pay hundreds of dollars more!

Ask your dealer for a demonstration of MGB performance, the result of 35 years of championship breeding. You'll agree... nobody puts more into car-making than BMC.

Will Remain Canadian Paper's Control Guarded

WINNIPEG — To ensure that control of its various newspaper properties in Canada shall remain in Canadian hands, FP Publications Limited is applying to the Secretary of State for supplementary letters patent, for approval of bylaws which will only permit the transfer of the company's voting shares to Canadian citizens resident in Canada.

This statement was issued today by R. S. Malone, general manager of FP Publications Limited, which owns the Ottawa Journal, Winnipeg Free Press, Calgary Albertan, Lethbridge Herald, Victoria Colonist, Victoria Times, Free Press Weekly, Prairie Farmer, and also publishes the Vancouver Sun for Pacific Press Limited.

Directors of the company have also applied for authority to demand declarations at any time respecting the ownership of its voting shares.

SAFEGUARD

It is the view of FP directors that the major newspaper properties of Canada should not be allowed to fall under foreign control.

This safeguard, they feel, is better instituted by the papers themselves, rather than by any government legislation, which in any way might subsequently be interpreted as a form of government licensing or state control.

Spotlight on Defence

B.C. Tel communication systems help guard our continent against surprise attacks

To detect the approach of and defend against missiles, rockets or planes entering the territorial atmosphere of North America is the role of NORAD—North American Air Defence Command—with its Combat Operations Centre at Colorado Springs.

Jointly controlled by the United States and Canada for defence against surprise nuclear attack, this complex nerve centre demonstrates vividly how B.C. Tel and a continent-wide network of telecommunications systems is meeting the challenge of today's "Cold War" conditions.

B.C. Tel's variety of the very latest developments in the communications systems are playing a key role in perhaps the most important of all public services—defence of North America against destruction. These electronic marvels provide the connecting links for data transmission devices between radar sites and strategically located computer centres.

Such dramatic advances for military purposes are even now expanding our everyday communications. Long distance calling, radio-telephone coverage, TWX and other special data services are but a few,

"This is exactly the sort of thing we need to have more of," he said.

Mr. Brander was reluctant to discuss the recent indication from Ottawa that the government may soon move to implement some of the recommendations of the O'Leary report.

PRO-CANADIAN

The report, which followed an investigation by a Royal Commission on Publications, advocated a strong Canadian voice and certain protective measures for publications exclusively Canadian.

"It looks as though the government may, at last, do something about the report and I am hesitant to say anything to further muddy the waters," said Mr. Brander.

Pope Asks World To End Its Wars

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI appealed in his Easter message Sunday for a negotiated end to "every war and guerrilla operation"—a plea clearly aimed at the fighting in Viet Nam.

The 67-year-old pontiff also denounced racial strife and political and social oppression.

A half-million people braved a cold wind and rain to hear the pope's message delivered in Italian at an outdoor mass in St. Peter's Square.

Speaking in a firm voice, the pontiff asked for rejoicing on this Christian feast day commemorating the resurrection of Christ. He said it should be a time of optimism, inspiring the world toward peace and justice, and the desire "of a new start in the history of man."

"And so, in the name and in the spirit of the risen Christ, may the day finally come on which men will put aside their false ideologies, urged on by their need for a new wisdom or because they have accepted this new wisdom which reveals man's true nature as well as his true destiny."

The Pope began Easter by driving 12 miles to St. Francis Village where he celebrated the first of two outdoor Easter masses. About 2,000 persons attended the service at the village, a workers' housing project built with Vatican contributions.

Students by Thousands Flake Out on Beaches

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—More than 75,000 college students engaged Monday in the annual Easter ritual of "flaking out"—doing nothing—along miles of Florida beaches.

They are "recovering" from a long winter's textbook grind by basking in 90-degree temperatures. They stare at each other, bat volley balls, pluck guitars and occasionally leap off buildings into swimming pools.

Daytona Beach Police Chief Oscar Folsom said at least 60,000 students were counted on his beach. More were coming, he said, as fast as their hitch-hiking thumbs will carry them.

Two hundred miles south on Florida road A1A about 15,000 more students soaked up sun tan lotion on Fort Lauderdale's mile-long beach.

Since the 1960 student riot and the much-publicized film Where the Boys Are, Fort Lauderdale has lost much of its attraction for collegians.

Give the Parker 45 Convertible.

$5<sup>95</sup>*

The pen that fills two ways, and can remind you when you're running out of ink.

Every day is someone's special day. You can make it an occasion—by giving a Parker 45.

Even the Parker ink cartridge has been improved to enhance this lavish $5.95 worth.

The cartridge now has an exclusive ink reserve—a TAP-TANK, we call it. When your pen runs dry, you tap the cartridge and down comes a reserve ink supply. (You can continue writing for up to 700 words, even after it's time for a refill.)

The Parker 45 is convertible, too. It fills two ways: with the TAP-TANK cartridge, or slip in the converter and it fills from an ink bottle. You also have a choice of four nib sizes.

You can be lavish for all the birthdays, anniversaries, weddings and graduations that come along.

NHL Cool To TV

LONDON (CP) — John F. (Bunny) Ahearne, Britain's leading hockey figure, said Monday he has applied for European television rights to National Hockey League games but that initial NHL reaction has been cool.

Ahearne, president of the International Ice Hockey Federation, said he expects to reply to a letter from the NHL's television committee perhaps Tuesday and "the matter is not yet closed."

PRETTY BIG

"It could be a pretty big thing if it went through," Ahearne said in a telephone interview, adding at one point that prospects did not look good. His "attitude" to the NHL had been questioned, he said.

There have been times when the interests of the IIHF and the NHL clashed, said Ahearne, and this could be the reason for the professional league's cool reaction.

WOULD BE BARRED

An IIHF meeting last May decided that any European ice stadium permitting the performance of professional hockey players would be barred from staging any IIHF amateur games.

The Ahearne TV plan envisaged that the NHL would take a percentage of the proceeds from European showings.

Games in Canada and the United States could possibly be relayed across the Atlantic by communications satellite, or else rebroadcast in Europe from film or video tape.

Ahearne could negotiate with Eurovision, the continental TV hookup, or with such national organizations as the BBC and Independent TV.

Three Ex-Champs Enter Semi-Finals

Dark horse Doug Munro and three former champions moved a step closer to berths in the Times Vancouver Island Open golf tournament final with quarter-final victories at Royal Colwood Sunday.

Playing an extra hole, Victoria club representative Munro defeated Canadian caddy Mike Kolb.

Former champs Ron MacLeod, Laurie Kerr and Norm Boden had it easier.

MacLeod, another Victoria representative, defeated Dr. Roger Ross, 6 and 5, while Kerr downed Uplands' Gordie Fellow, 4 and 2. Mt. Brewster's Boden sidestepped Ardmore's Hal Jacobson, 3 and 1.

ALL-GOUGE EVENT

The Hugh Francis (handicap) Trophy became an all-Gorge Vale affair when Eric Zwirk, Mike Ott, Wilbur DeSilva and Wayne McDonald moved into the semi-finals.

McDonald defeated Cedar Hill's Walt Spaven, 3 and 2; DeSilva, Colwood's Percy Barriell, one up; Zwirk, clubmate Lex Sutcliffe; and Ott, clubmate Morley Vollett, 3 and 1.

Next Sunday's 36-hole semi-finals will be played at Gorge Vale. The finals are May 2.

Japanese Dominate Marathon

BOSTON (CP) — Morio Shigematsu, 25-year-old Japanese university student, led a triumphant Japanese return to the Boston marathon Monday, winning the event in the record time of two hours, 16 minutes, 26 seconds.

Two other members of the Japanese team, Hideki Shishido and Takayuki Nakao, finished second and third respectively. Shishido and Nakao also broke the old record in times of 2:17.12 and 2:17.31. Austral Vandendriessche of Belgium, winner for the last two years, was fourth in 2:17.66, better than the 2:18.58 he ran in 1963 in setting the previous record. He ran despite an infected heel.

Ron Wallingford, 31-year-old assistant professor of physical education at McMaster University in Hamilton, was the first Canadian to cross the line. He finished 11th in 2:23.30. Wallingford was third last year in 2:20.51, the fastest time for a Canadian in the event.

Racer's Wife Dies in Crash

GUISE, France (AP) — Mrs. Olivier Gendebien, 35, wife of the Belgian racing driver, was killed Monday and their seven-year-old son, Robert, was injured when the car in which they were riding left a road and struck a tree.

Gendebien was in Kenya participating in a car race.

George Chuvalo Stops Unknown from U.S.

TORONTO (CP) — George Chuvalo of Toronto scored a technical knockout over Bill Nielsen of Omaha, Neb., in their heavyweight fight at Maple Leaf Gardens Monday night.

Chuvalo, 27-year-old Canadian heavyweight champion unleashed a savage fury of blows in the eighth round and referee Jackie Silver stopped the one-sided match at 2:47 of the round after the 230-pound Nielsen had taken several crushing lefts and rights to the head without a return. There were no knock-downs in the scheduled 10-round affair.

Chuvalo, weighing 269, employed a two-fisted body attack and an occasional stiff left jab to wear down Nielsen who had rolls of fat spilling over the tops of his trunks.

NOT LISTED

Nielsen, unlisted among the top 10 heavyweights, was content to jab and step back through the first seven rounds in an attempt to stay away from Chuvalo's punching power. Chuvalo, ranked fifth in World Boxing Association ratings, worked mainly to the body during most of the bout and had trouble escaping Nielsen's left jab which caused his nose to bleed from the first round to the finish.

The American heavyweight displayed some good combination punching in the second and fifth rounds, but seemed more concerned with staying away from Chuvalo than landing any authoritative punches of his own.

PUS PRESSURE ON

Chuvalo began to put on the pressure in the sixth round, which he took by a wide margin. A hard left and right and a series of combinations had Nielsen reeling against the ropes.

Before the final round, it appeared Chuvalo would have trouble as Nielsen took everything his opponent could throw and kept coming back for more.

SAME STRATEGY

Chuvalo employed the same strategy he used in his 12-round loss to former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in February—a savage body attack in an attempt to slow down his opponent and set him up for a knockout blow.

The crowd was 5,388. Promoters Vic Bagnato and Gus MacLellan needed $500 to break even.

Chuvalo's purse was a choice of either $8,000 or 30 per cent of the gate, whichever was greater, while Nielsen received a flat guarantee of $5,000.

'READY FOR ANYBODY'

In his dressing room the unmarked Chuvalo said: "I'm ready now for anybody in the world."

He had no immediate goal. "I'd like to get at Patterson again. I'd like to meet the winner of the (Sonny) Liston-Cassius) Clay fight. Anybody. I'm ready."

Chicago Calls Up Help

MONTREAL (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks, who played the first game of their Stanley Cup best-of-seven final without two regulars, received good news on those two counts Monday, but bad on a third.

The Hawks, who dropped the opener 3-2 to Montreal Canadiens at the Forum Saturday night, expect captain - defence man Pierre Pilote and right winger Kenney Wharram to return to the lineup for tonight's second game here.

But a third regular is reported ailing and a doubtful starter.

Troit-Chicago semi-final series, came up with an injured left elbow Monday and may miss tonight's game.

Pilote, out with a separated left shoulder, and Wharram, nursing a sore right knee, are expected to take their regular shifts.

In addition, the Hawks reached to the American League Buffalo Bisons for reinforcements.

CALLS IN RESERVES

Coach Bill Reay, who was caught without the necessary reserve horses Saturday, called up defencemen John Mizuk and Don Johns, plus centre Gerry Melnyk, from the Bisons. The Buffalo farmhands were eliminated from Calder Cup competition Sunday night by Hershey Bears.

Later in the day, Reay announced that a fourth minor leaguer, left winger Jack Stanfield, also has been called up for standby duty. Stanfield, older brother of Hawk rookie Fred Stanfield, saw action this season with both Buffalo and St. Louis of the Central Pro League.

Melnik has two full seasons of National League competition under his belt, appearing with Detroit as well as Chicago. Mizuk, obtained in a deal which sent Ron Murphy to the Red Wings this year, appeared in two regular season and three playoff contests while in the Detroit organization.

Johns, who saw action in 22 games with New York Rangers this season, was obtained along with Camille Henry from the Blueshirts.

While the Hawks figured to show new faces for the second game, Canadiens will go with the same crew that gave them their initial victory.

PLANS TO GO WITH GUMP

Coach Toe Blake said Monday he plans to leave veteran Lorne (Gump) Worsley to take care of the goaltending and will again dress burly Noel Picard as a fifth defender. Picard saw limited action Saturday.

Blake, who has had his choice of goaltenders facilitated by injuries and illness, said he had originally planned to start Charlie Hodge Saturday night when Worsley developed the flu. However, Gump reported fit Saturday and the coach decided to stay with the net-minder who helped oust Toronto Maple Leafs in a six-game semifinal. "I merely went back to my original plan," Blake said, following an hour's workout and scrimmage Monday. "Worsley played well even in the games we lost against Toronto, so I'll probably stay with him."

Bobby Nichols Chased Right to Finish Line

HOUSTON (AP) — Bobby Nichols had an 11-under-par stroke lead Sunday but held on to survive strong comebacks by Bruce Devlin and Juan Rodriguez and win $12,000 top money in the $75,000 Houston golf classic.

He was just one stroke up on the flamboyant Rodriguez, who blundered the 7,233-yard, par-71 course with a 64, and Devlin, an Australian, who tied for second at 74 after a final 68.

Manchester United Zooms Into Lead

LONDON (Reuters) — Manchester United went into the leadership of the English League soccer's First Division by beating Birmingham City 4-2 Monday as Chelsea and Leeds both lost.

Monday's victory made Manchester United favorite to take the league title after one of the closest races in many years.

BY ONE POINT

The club leads by one point over Chelsea and Leeds, with three games to play, appears to have a slightly easier program than its rivals.

Leeds was without ace forwards Bobby Collins and Alan Peacock because of injury and was beaten 3-0 by Sheffield Wednesday.

JUST TWO LEFT

Liverpool beat Chelsea 2-0. Chelsea has two more games to play, Manchester United and Leeds three each.

Birmingham, which along with Wolverhampton Wanderers, now is certain to be relegated to the Second Division, held Manchester United to 1-1 at half-time and actually got in front 3-1 before its opponent's superior skill told.

Winger George Best got two goals for United. The others were scored by England forward Bobby Charlton and Noel Cantwell, the reserve team centre half who played at centre forward Monday because of an injury to David Herd. Geoff Thwaites and Geoff Vowden got the Birmingham goals.

Snow and hail fell in many parts of the country and at Stoke, where the home team beat Burnley 2-0, the referee had to suspend play for 10 minutes because of a violent hail storm. Northampton Town, which Saturday made sure of promotion to the First Division, crashed 5-2 in its Second Division game at Plymouth.

We give you less for your money.

When you buy a new Johnson 9 1/2 you get less. Less weight, less height, less bulk, less trouble, less appetite for fuel. As fishing motors go it's very small. Just 34 inches high. They call it the compact's compact.

The 9 1/2 is nothing to carry because the balance is perfect like a good gun. And easy to store because both sides are free of the usual levers and protrusions that get in the way. Instead all the controls are up front to make less work of driving.

What's more the 9 1/2 is a stingy outboard. It trolls all day on a tank of regular gas. And with 50:1 gas-oil mix, oil costs are cut in half. Another thing the 9 1/2 gives you less of is noise and trouble. Like all Johnson's you can take its quietness and dependability for granted. Johnson even puts it in writing with an extra long two year warranty.

As you can see, the 9 1/2 offers less of just about everything. Especially the things you don't need. The only thing it offers more of than anyone else is value.

See the amazing Seahorse 9 1/2 for yourself. It's at your Johnson Dealer's now.

New Exhibition Park Nothing Like Old

VANCOUVER (CP) — Horse players who wagered a record $17,000,000 at Exhibition Park last year won't recognize the old place.

Neither will the horses.

The 45-year-old wooden grandstand has been torn down, much of the firetrap barn area has been replaced, the paddock has been widened and the track itself renovated to remove a killer curve.

STARTS FRIDAY

By opening day Friday, the total bill will be about $2,000,000.

The modern steel-and-concrete grandstand - clubhouse structure will seat more than 5,000 persons - double the old capacity.

There will be a quick-service cafeteria to serve hot lunches to the general-admission patrons. The clubhouse area will include a fashionable table terrace area to accommodate 400 for dining and dining while viewing through protective glass.

There will be licensed lounges for both clubhouse and grandstand patrons. A new working press area is situated atop the roof.

Jockeys' quarters will include steam room, canteen, recreation room and sundeck.

TWICE AS BIG

The paddock area will be twice its former size.

As for the track itself, the radius of the northwest turn has been increased to provide a complete oval with matching spiral turns. The starting chute has been lengthened to provide for 6 1/2-furlong races. The horses will have an additional 1/16th of a mile to sort out before reaching the first turn, eliminating jamming.

RECORDS LIKELY

A glass fibre running rail will replace the old wooden rails. Total purse distribution at Exhibition Park and its Vancouver Island counterpart, Sandown, reached a record $1,317,153.1 last year, an increase of $87,000 over the 1965 figure.

With 80 days at Exhibition Park this year - an increase of three - all records are expected to topple.

RANDOWN START

Racing at Sandown - 16 days - starts Sept. 18.

The big races at Exhibition Park in 1966 will be the British Columbia Derby, $15,000-added, run Aug. 28 at 1 1/4 miles.

The S. W. Randall Plate, $10,000-added, goes, Sept. 4 at 1 1/16 miles.

The B.C. Futurity for two-year-olds, six furlongs for $7,500-added, will be run Aug. 11.

The Ascot Sophomore Stakes for three-year-olds, a 1 1/4 mile event, will be run July 24 for $7,500-added.

Exhibition Park, with a minimum of $1,400, has the highest guaranteed purse structure west of Toronto and north of California.

This year, claiming prices are up to $1,200 from $1,000.

There were 600 horses in training a month before opening day.

By the time the first bugle blows, there are expected to be some 800 ready to run.

VANCOUVER—Defeat Sunday smashed Victoria United hopes for a first-place finish and pushed them out of the Pacific Coast Soccer League's Championship picture.

The defeat set up an "all-or-nothing" match between Vancouver Canadians and Firefighters Wednesday to decide the league championship and the right to represent Canada in the international Kennedy Cup tournament in Mexico next month.

Strike Near For Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dodger Stadium employees have voted to strike and union officials said Friday other National League baseball parks could be affected.

The Dodgers' home season opener Tuesday night with New York Mets will not be affected. The union is primarily concerned with increased health and welfare benefits.

League officials agreed on the sudden-death game Sunday after Canadians defeated United 3-1, though both Vancouver clubs have four games to play on the schedule.

The action was necessary because a Canadian team must be in Tijuana, Mexico, by May 1 for the start of the international tournament.

SCOTLAND WINS
EDINBURGH (Reuters) — Scotland beat South Africa 25 in a Rugby Union international at Murrayfield Saturday. Scotland led 5-0 at halftime.

Sunday's victory moved the Canadians within one point of the league-leading Firemen.

First goal of the game came at the 25-minute mark with Canadians' Roy Nosella doing the honors on a breakaway.

Rookie Harold Hansen made it 2-0 early in the second half and right wing Bob Coyle clinched the game.

Long Victoria goal came on a free kick by Dave Stothard. Manager Fred Magee disclosed that both Firefighters and Canadians have invited Stothard to accompany the league champions to the Kennedy Cup tournament.

Hands for eating... shaking... getting... hands always in view. If they're spotted, weathered and old looking, you're in trouble, man! You instantly are changed "old age" by your hands. And now not necessary because a special extract from a metallic salt has been combined scientifically with a cosmetic cream base called Ecto that actually whitens hands and fades away those awful browned age spots. Ask for Ecto at pharmacies. An ounce jar is now available and it gets rid of most age hand spots to make hands look young again.

Songhees Get Order: Don't Lease

By PATRICK O'NEILL

The Indian affairs department has frozen a plan by Songhees band to lease land on its reserve to Greater Victoria businessmen, says Songhees Chief John Albany.

Following a meeting of the council, he said he had learned from Cowichan Indian agency that profits from any lease already entered into by band members will be held up until there is a ruling from Ottawa.

Chief Albany said the agency told him complaints from residents near the reserve prompted the action.

He blamed supporters of a merger between View Royal and Esquimalt for the protest, claiming they were trying to put pressure on the band.

LAND LEASED
"They are trying to force us to co-operate in amalgamating the whole area," he said. "They think they can stop industry moving onto the reserve."

He has already leased 2½ acres of his own land on the reserve to a Victoria auto parts dealer, he said.

"This land is of no use to me. The man who leased it will improve and beautify it and bring industry to the reserve."

COUNCIL APPROVED
He said the Songhees council approved the lease as a first step in a move to bring industry onto the reserve.

"It is our land, why do they stop us?" he asked.

Chief Albany said Indians would rather see reserve lands developed than draw welfare cheques.

MILE AWAY
His property is at 1341 Craigflower. He claims the residents who objected to use of the land live more than one mile away.

The reserve contains 285 acres of land.

Chief Albany said he has been told by supporters of the View Royal-Esquimalt merger that they would oppose development on the reserve because they have "plans" for this land.

"What plans? It's our land!" said the chief.

WIRE INDIANS
He said Songhees council decided any businessman leasing land must hire Indians for work on the reserve.

"Ottawa, Esquimalt, or anyone else is not going to tell me what to do with my land," he said.

Chief Albany said View Royal ratepayers are one of the groups trying to stop industry on reserve land.

PAY PLENTY
"The only tie we have with them is for fire department service, and we pay plenty for that," he said.

He said Cowichan Indian agency had been told industry would "develop" land of white residents in View Royal.

"I was invited to a meeting of this merger group five years ago. I refused then, I still refuse. We want to be left alone."

Chief Albany added: "I think we've been pushed around enough."

"We were pushed off the land where your legislative buildings now stand and we were pushed across the Johnson Street bridge. We refuse to be pushed any farther."

Students Need Encouragement To Prove Their Capabilities

By CHARLES LAVERTU
The Greater Victoria school board has warned parents and teachers against underestimating the ability and intelligence of pupils.

A recent issue of a news bulletin to parent auxiliaries of schools cites an experiment conducted by Martin La Vor of the University of Alabama.

The experiment showed that if a teacher believes in the unexpressed ability of the child, he can then develop this ability.

Woman Critically Injured During Rash of Accidents

A head-on crash at Shellbourne and Pear critically injured a woman passenger in one of a rash of accidents in blinding rain Monday.

Mrs. Eberhard Doehnel, 35, West Saanich Road, suffered head injuries in the accident. She was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Her husband Eberhard was being treated for facial injuries. Their 11-year-old son, Michael, in the back seat, was uninjured. Driver of the other car, Mrs. Anna Pine, 27, Avebury, was uninjured.

Saanich police are seeking the driver of an older model dark green car whom they believe to have been a witness to the accident. Police would like to hear from anyone in the area at the time of the accident.

A two-car crash at Hillside and Rose sent Mrs. Anne Meager, 45, of 135 Durrance, and her daughter Vera, 12, to Royal Jubilee Hospital with minor head injuries. Both were released after treatment.

Police said the driver of the other car was Edward Parrott, 1837 Feltham Road. He was uninjured.

They'll Talk It Over
Joint council of ratepayers' groups in North Saanich will recommend at a public meeting Wednesday that the area be incorporated as a separate entity.

Go-It-Alone Plan For North Saanich?
The decision to recommend incorporation rather than joining Sidney or Central Saanich was made at a meeting of the joint council Sunday.

Dr. A. B. Nash, chairman of the council, said the recommendation will be made to the public meeting, and ratepayers will then be free to discuss this and other proposals for the future of North Saanich.

But Dr. Nash, who will preside at the meeting, has been instructed by the council to deny the floor to anyone from outside the area.

Two Months Left For Bakery

Weston Bakeries Ltd., will end its Victoria baking operations within two months, B.C. general manager T. E. Moyer said Monday.

The move, caused by "economic necessity," will mean eight workers will be laid off.

Mr. Moyer said the firm has been gradually cutting production in the Fairview bread-baking plant over the past two months.

But he pointed out the plant will be retained as a sales office and distributing centre.

Some of the baking equipment will be absorbed in the firm's Vancouver plant.

Red Cross Clinic Set
A two-day blood donors clinic will be held Wednesday and Thursday of this week by the Victoria branch of the Red Cross.

During the two-day drive, officials of the blood donor panel hope to collect more than 700 pints of the life-saving fluid.

Clinics will be open Wednesday from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 9 p.m., at Red Cross House, 1045 Fort Street, and Thursday from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. in the Venture gymnasium, HMC Dockyard.

U.K. Locomotive Due April 26
A locomotive and coach from Britain, destined for the new Imperial Pageantry Centre, 1049 Government Street, are scheduled to arrive April 26.

The train, which once carried royal passengers on grouse and stag-hunting expeditions in Scotland, was bought by Harold Foster, 1754 Townley.

By IAN STREET

Business is so good that B.C. Ferry Authority is having trouble keeping up with demand.

It is touch-and-go at the moment whether a major reconstruction of the Swartz Bay ferry terminal will be completed on schedule in early June.

This project is key to re-organization of the Swartz Bay

Tsawwassen and Gulf Islands mainland services in an effort to meet overload situations, mostly at weekends.

Relieve Pressure
The solution proposed by Monty Aldous, general manager of the ferry service, will relieve pressure on the Queen of the Islands operating out of Tsawwassen while giving more sailings to the mainland out of Swartz Bay.

Queen of Sidney will be brought in to make a fifth ship on the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen run June 14 with stops at Pender and Mayne Islands en route.

Half-Hour Sailings
Since four other ships will be providing the regular hourly service to the mainland, the Sidney will introduce periodic half-hourly sailings.

There's little doubt that the extra ferry capacity will be quickly absorbed. Last summer, at the peak of the tourist rush in August, government ferries were running at 77 per cent capacity.

Travel on B.C. ferries has been growing steadily at better than 10 per cent a year.

Gulf Islands
The big ship stops at Mayne and Pender will reduce the summer schedule of the Tsawwassen-based Queen of the Islands to calls at Galiano and Long Harbor on Salt Spring Island. There will be three round trips daily from the mainland.

Vancouver Island ferry links with the Gulf Islands will continue to be maintained by small ships of the government fleet out of Swartz Bay.

Major Facelift
Terminal facilities at Swartz Bay are getting a major facelift in preparation for the service changes. The old temporary lay-over dock is being replaced by a second operating dock and a permanent lay-over dock.

The Gulf Islands dock is being relocated in a move that is also increasing the amount of parking space available and making it possible in the near future to expand the actual terminal building.

May Not Be Ready
Officials said the new docks may not be completed by June 14 but this won't delay start of the summer schedule. Ships will use temporary facilities, if necessary.

It may also be necessary, initially, to transport passengers between Pender and Mayne until new dock facilities are completed.

Summer Only
The new Gulf Islands-Mainland run will be in operation during the summer season only. Government plans to make it year-round were upset by union objections to a 72-hour summer work week for its members with time off in winter.

Parade Out Of View
Parents who waited for the children's costume parade to pass along View Street Saturday were disappointed when the parade turned up Yates.

Chamber of Commerce spokesmen said Monday the route of the parade was changed because a city ordinance sets out the routes of any parades and the route does not include View.

Saanich Compromises On University Road

Saanich council and the University of Victoria have come to an agreement following a deadlock over road access versus a temporary, 200-seat theatre on campus.

University president Dr. Malcolm Taylor, heading a three-man delegation, had made a plea for council to approve plans for expansion of an old H-bus to convert it into a temporary theatre.

Saanich was opposed to the move because the old building stood on one of two possible routes of a proposed road.

COMMITTEES AGREED
A committee from the university and one representing Saanich council agreed the road would not go through the theatre, although the agreement did not cover where the road would be, according to Dr. Taylor.

University officials were told the permit would be granted if a compromise could be worked out.

Wellburn Heads Historical Body
G. E. Wellburn has been elected president of the Victoria branch of the B.C. Historical Association.

Other officers elected at the annual meeting were H. B. Nash, vice-president; David Mason, secretary; and L. W. Turnbull, treasurer.

Test Used in Check-Up

B.C. Leads Cancer Hunt

By the time a woman's suspicions are aroused, cancer of the cervix is usually advanced.

Credit for the widespread use of the test in this province goes to Dr. Herbert Fidler, of the Cancer Foundation of British Columbia.

Dr. Fidler started a program a number of years ago to male testing for cancer of the cervix a widespread practice.

The cancer forum, sponsored by The Daily Colonist, Victoria Medical Society and Victoria Branch, Canadian Cancer Society, will also feature a film called The Million Club.

This film deals with the cure of seven persons who discovered cancer in its early stages.

The government has now agreed to operate the Sidney on an eight-hour daily schedule six days a week and lay off temporary crew members in the off-season.

Surprised
Most people take for granted the success of the government ferry system, says Mr. Aldous, but almost everyone, himself included, is surprised by the rapidity of its growth.

The new Queen of Burnaby is due for delivery next month. She will go onto the Nanaimo-Horseshoe Bay run, freeing the Queen of Sidney for other duties. Three smaller ships are under construction at Victoria Machinery Depot for the Jervis Inlet, Gulf Islands and Bowen Island runs.

The ocean-going Queen of Prince Rupert, also building at VMD, is scheduled to enter service in the early summer of 1966.

Agreement has been reached with Alaska ferries to share their docks at Prince Rupert, the northern terminus, while plans are nearing completion for a new terminal at Kelsey Bay.

Interest in the northern route is already running high. Several bookings have been received from the U.S.

MONTREAL (CP) — A woman's emotional sensitivity is a strong reason for hiring women executives, says Eric Gould, who deliberately employs female managers in the branches of his Montreal business.

"Because they're so emotional, women quickly sense moods of the individual buyer and know when to retreat and not offend," he said.

Too old to buy insurance?

Being over 65 is no barrier to the purchase of new life insurance. And for many people in their sixties or seventies it can be a very wise "buy."

Here's an example. A man age 75 has a substantial number of investments. At death, estate taxes will have to be paid. To raise the cash, income-producing assets have to be sold, often with severe losses to the beneficiaries. Life insurance can prevent this loss by providing the necessary cash.

Manufacturers Life has a sound reputation for its liberal approach to insuring older people for the purpose of estate conservation or for guaranteeing the continuity of a business. Our representatives are qualified to provide competent counsel to help our senior citizens meet these special needs.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't consider me crazy for asking you this but I need help badly and you are my only hope.

My mother is bald. My father has a very heavy head of hair. My older brother is rapidly losing his hair and will soon be bald-like my mother.

I am a circus acrobat. Hanging by my hair is part of my act. My hair seems to be the same heavy type that father has, but at times I become depressed worrying about the possibility that perhaps my hair will fall out like my mother's. Should I change professions before it is too late? Thank you for your kind consideration.—WORRIED

Dear Worried: Don't be a coward and change professions, even if you should detect signs of baldness. Stick with it. Bill yourself as the world's only balding acrobat who hangs by his hair. And please — don't chicken out and use a net. I'd like to get rid of you characters who write phony letters — and the sooner the better.

Dear Ann Landers: My uncle was buried last Thursday. When I tell you we have at least 100 relatives in this town I am not exaggerating.

This uncle was a nice person and everyone liked him. His wife is a living, breathing chunk of ice who could hold a convention of all her friends in a telephone booth.

After the funeral my husband and I went to the cemetery and then home. We learned the next day the whole crowd was invited to my aunt's house for dinner. We were the only ones who weren't there. I am very put out. Why would she do this? Even in her grief she managed to insult me. Please comment.—PUT OUT

Dear Out: Relatives and close friends customarily gather at the home of the bereaved after a funeral. It is not a party. Nobody gets invited. They just go. Relatives, friends and neighbors usually assume the responsibility of bringing, preparing and serving the food. Your letter is a good example of how people sometimes blame others when the fault lies with themselves.

Think of all the small economy cars that will cut your motoring costs.

Now consider this: Doesn't it make sense to choose the one with looks you'll be proud of?

That's the 1965 Vauxhall Viva by General Motors

Gold Medal winner at the 1964 London Motor Show.

It's one thing to be proud of the low price you pay, the economy you get and the handling and roadability you enjoy in an economy car... but it's another thing again when you're forever apologizing for its styling. Of course, it doesn't have to be that way. Not when you buy a Vauxhall Viva. You can be proud of its looks. Its coachwork won a Gold Medal at the 1964 London Motor Show.

And consider how much more Viva gives you besides good looks... like a 50 hp engine, fully synchronized 4-speed transmission, Roll-control suspension, up to 45 mpg economy, Magic-

Mirror finish, 10.76 cu. ft. of trunk space. The list goes on and on. So, if you want a small, low price economy car with looks you can be proud of, go see the man who sells Viva. OK?

The lovely gown was styled with a full train, fitted bodice and bateau neckline. A crown of seed pearls and crystals held the elbow-length veil of silk, and for her jewelry the bride wore a single strand of pearls and matching drop earrings. She carried a cascade of yellow roses, white hyacinths and ivy.

Canon Hywel J. Jones officiated at the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. W. Tippett, 2487 Florence Street, and the son of Mr. Thomas Grute, Winnipeg, Man., and Mrs. Arthur C. Hancock, Lake Cowichan. Mr. C. Palmer was organist.

Rev. R. J. D. Morris officiated at the double-ring ceremony in First United Church. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert James Edmonds, Thompson Avenue, was given in marriage by her father.

Her wedding gown was fashioned with rolled collar of silk chiffon meeting the bodice of lace-over-satin to form a square neckline. An overskirt of lace cascaded into a slight train from the princess waistline.

A crown of lace and pearls held her shoulder-length veil, and her only jewelry was a single-drop pearl necklace. She carried a cascade of gold-toned gladioli with white stephanotis.

Mrs. Pat Evans was matron of honor for her sister and bridesmaids were Miss June Jamieson and Miss Nan McLeod. Their sheath dresses were of aqua silk chiffon with overskirts fastened with bows, and they carried crescent bouquets of pale yellow gladioli, with matching gladioli in their hair.

Flower girl was four-year-old Catherine Evans, niece of the bride, who wore a full-skirted dress with scalloped lace trim, matching that of the senior attendants. She wore a matching bonnet and carried a basket of spring flowers.

Mr. Colin Moir was best man, and ushers were Mr. John Richardson and Mr. Robert Evans. As the couple left for a honeymoon Up-Island and to the mainland, the bride wore a sky-blue suit with copper-beige accessories and pink roses on corsage.

Code Gives State Right to Meddle

BERLIN (UPI) — The East German Communists are setting the scene for the first fight in a marriage before a couple are even wed.

The proposed marriage code says the couple may use either the husband's family name or that of the wife—and the decision must be made by the time they sign the marriage register.

The code was made public today by widowed East German justice minister "Red Hilde" Benjamin who said it was time marriage was fitted into the East German Communist way of life.

The code, published by the East German News Agency, gives almost untrammelled opportunities for state organizations to meddle in marriages.

It says such state organizations as those for education, juvenile help, health and welfare and justice, as well as "social organizations" such as trade unions, workers councils, and even apartment-level local party councils are duty-bound to help the young couple "develop true socialist family relationships."

State and factory functionaries also are told to step in to patch up marriages in danger of breaking up.

New Ways Sought To Fight Crime

Prevention of juvenile crime will be discussed Thursday at the annual meeting of the Greater Victoria Family and Children's Service.

Social pressures which bring about hostility toward society have been receiving serious study from social workers in Victoria.

The results of one such study, 20 months of work with six boys who were headed for a future of delinquency, will be outlined by social worker Gerald Webb.

A continuation of this program on a wider basis, coupled with other means of fighting delinquency, will be discussed. The meeting, open to the public, will be held in St. John Ambulance Hall, 941 Pandora.

Bachelor Rich In Hobbies

FORT MACLEOD, Alta. (CP) — Gordon Munro Elgin, 39, a bachelor ranching in this district 25 miles west of Lethbridge, has an array of hobby skills that would be envied by most men — and by women too.

Mr. Elgin runs the 1,600-acre ranch where he was born. He's a big-game hunter and collects arrowheads from a buffalo slaughtering ground near his ranch.

MAN OF PARTS

Besides this the rancher is an accomplished chef, does impeccable petit-point needlework, knits everything from baby outfits to men's sweaters, creates fancy shell work, does copper tooling, paints, makes abstract designs for vases and does a lot of home canning.

Mr. Elgin started his best-known hobby almost 20 years ago, when he discovered arrowheads at the foot of a cliff near the ranch, 20 miles south of Fort Macleod. He estimates the tiny pieces of chipped rock may be up to 2,000 years old, left there by generations of Indians who stampeded buffalo over the precipice and slew survivors at the bottom with bows and arrows.

SIFTING SOIL

The rancher has spent days at the site, sifting the soil through a quarter-inch screen in his search for arrowheads. His collection of about 800 perfect barbs is on display in the Fort Macleod museum during the summer.

By knitting more than 200 items of clothing for the Canadian Red Cross, Mr. Elgin won the War Workers Badge. He first began the hobby in 1938, following the practice of his mother who spun her own knitting wool.

When knitting began to bore him, Mr. Elgin turned to petit point, a hobby for the last five winters. He was offered $180 for one small mountain scene.

Pickets Stay Following Gunfire Claim

MONTREAL (CP) — Pickets remained on the job at Canada's Limited Monday in the wake of a union allegation that a weekend shotgun blast struck a union official's car.

With 500 of the aircraft's non-striking personnel on vacation beginning this week, the number of persons crossing picket lines of the International Association of Machinists (IAM) was greatly reduced.

Forecast... Showers

Happily, the April showers we welcome this month are those gay showers designed to fête the bride-to-be... occasions frequently calling for fancy little sandwiches. A dash of dry mustard, a sprinkle of celery salt, garlic salt, caraway seeds or celery seeds creamed into the butter does wonders to perk up the flavor of those dainty sandwiches.

Saled Switch

Prefer salads to sandwiches? The dressing "makes" the salad in most cases, and dairy sour cream "makes" the dressing for a variety of salads. Sweeten it with a little honey and add some finely chopped preserved ginger and chopped pecans for crunch... perfect for chicken or fruit salads.

Time Saver

If the salad calls for a mayonnaise dressing, mix it half and half with whipped cream... makes it much lighter and creamier. For fruit salads a little maraschino cherry juice adds a touch of color and a bit of extra flavor.

Hot Saled

Chicken salad, the perennial favorite, gets a new twist when served hot. Just turn your very best salad mixture, dressing and all, into a creamy casserole dish and bake in a 300°F. oven, 25 minutes. Sprinkle with a cup of shredded Canadian Cheddar cheese and return to the oven until the cheese melts.

Sweet Treat

Chocolate bon bons disappear from the candy dish magically. The smooth creamy centers are made by melting a 6-ounce package of semi-sweet chocolate pieces over boiling water. Then stir in a small can of evaporated milk, and cook over boiling water, stirring frequently, about 30 minutes. The mixture should be very thick. Chill thoroughly, so the chocolate is easy to handle, shape into small balls and roll in coconut.

TOYOTA CROWN

Canada's first limousine quality car priced at $2625<sup>00</sup>

Presumptuous? Not at all. The Toyota Crown is indeed a limousine quality car. It is used daily by statesmen and company presidents in Japan and many other parts of the world. That, in fact, is how Toyota earned its enviable international reputation. The Toyota Crown has demonstrated its superb quality and reliability over thousands of miles of swift, silent and trouble-free driving in countries whose highways are decades behind Canada's in development.

The Toyota Crown should never be classed with lesser automobiles whose low prices are achieved only by sacrificing equipment necessary for your comfort and convenience. Every Toyota Crown comes equipped with undercoating; white wall tires; door-to-door deep pile carpeting; padded dash; seat belts; window washers; back-up lights and courtesy lights.

Skeptics will doubt that a car of Toyota's quality, so equipped, can sell for just $2625.00. They doubted too, that high quality cameras could be sold for less.

Canadian Motor Industries is proud to offer the Toyota Crown to Canadians. We are determined to maintain Toyota's international reputation for excellence. That's why we instituted our policy of 24-hour service protection from coast to coast.

We invite you to visit your CMI dealer and inspect the Toyota Crown — the car with the international reputation for excellence.

Birthday Family Affair

By MARIARRET SAVILLE
WINDSOR, England (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth will be 39 Wednesday, and plans to spend the day quietly at Windsor Castle, her favorite home, resting up for her state visit to West Germany next month. It will be the first time a British monarch has visited Germany in more than 50 years.

The Queen's birthday is celebrated officially in June, when she takes the salute from her troops and hands out honors. But her actual birthday is April 21, and she usually spends the day with her husband, Prince Philip, their children, her mother, sister and other members of the royal family.

In view of her strenuous official program scheduled for next month, the Queen has been getting as much rest as possible. Nearly every morning she goes horseback riding in Windsor Great Park, and during her leisure hours she reads her favorite thrillers, plays her piano and listens to records.

Every day the Queen has to attend to state and official business and receive some callers, but life in the Queen's Tower at Windsor Castle generally is more tranquil than at Buckingham Palace.

Flowers from all over the world will greet the Queen on her birthday, many arriving by air from countries she has visited on her various tours.

Prince Charles, heir to the throne, Princess Anne and Prince Andrew each will give her a separate gift together with a signed card. Baby Prince Edward will do the same with some assistance from his elder sister.

The two elder royal children go shopping for their presents at Windsor, often at a shop just outside the castle walls, and they pay for them out of their own pocket money—and nothing expensive.

The Queen will have a birthday cake during tea.

This year her birthday will be marked with some sadness because of the death of two persons dear to the Queen — Sir Winston Churchill and the Queen's aunt, the Princess Royal. Churchill died in January and the Princess Royal died last month.

Queen Elizabeth will visit Germany from May 18 to May 28. The last time a British monarch went to Germany was in 1913 when George V went to a wedding which was a private affair.

LONDON (AP)—A new eight-foot-tall portrait of the Queen has aroused controversy.

Painted by Peter Greenham, 35, it will go on view at the Royal Academy's summer exhibition in early May. The morning papers published reproductions of it Monday.

Humphrey Brooks, secretary of the Royal Academy, said it was "probably the finest royal portrait since Landseer painted the young Queen Victoria in 1839." But he added: "The public won't like it. It's not photographic."

"I think it's awful," said Mrs. Muriel Jordan, 33, a filling station attendant. "The Queen looks knocked out. If I were her, I'd be furious. I'd have Greenham beheaded."

"I like it," said art student Lynette Sampson. "Greenham has given the Queen a softness that other artists have missed. Greenham is a controversial painter. In 1961, officers of the Middlesex Regiment commissioned him to do a portrait of Lt.-Gen. Sir Brian Horrocks. When they saw it, they demanded the artist make alterations."

One army critic said Greenham made Sir Brian look like an evil old cardinal.

Man Mislays His Family

LYNDHURST, England (UPI)—A motorist walked into the local police station Sunday and asked, "Can you help me find my family . . . I can't remember where I put them?"

The embarrassed man explained he left his wife and daughter at a picnic spot in the area while he drove to town, but couldn't find them. Police helped out with a list of local picnic areas and the family was reunited a few hours later.

Garden Notes

The Little Ones

By M. V. CHESTNUT, FRHS
One little annual flower which isn't nearly as well known hereabouts as it deserves it the California bluebell, Phacelia campanularia. If you remember, I distributed seeds of this little fellow a few years ago, and some of my readers tell me they still have it in their gardens as self-sown seedlings. Phacelia is a little beauty, not very much bigger than Sweet Alyssum or dwarf Lobelia, but covered all over with blossoms about the size of a 25-cent coin and of the clearest and most satisfying shade of blue — the deep blue of the summer sky on a calm, clear day. Each flower has a tiny "eye" of glistening white, and there is a touch of red in the dark green leaves which is most attractive.

summer, thereby keeping a succession of young plants coming along. While we're on the subject of dwarf plants, I'd like to get in a mention of another quick-growing and comparatively unknown annual called Linaria, a tiny plant resembling a miniature snapdragon and bearing the singularly unattractive nickname of Toadflax. Two different strains of annual Linaria are offered in the seed catalogues — Northern Lights, growing to about a foot tall, and Fairy Bouquet, producing masses of stiff little spikes bearing tiny snapdragon flowers in shades of crimson, mauve, gold, pink, blue, yellow and blue. Like the glorious "Heavenly Blue" morning glory, the dainty annual Linaria has a perennial cousin which has won for itself the dubious honor of being listed as a noxious weed under the Canada Weeds Act. Many an unsuspecting gardener has welcomed the appearance of a pretty little yellow snapdragon in her garden only to find that Linaria vulgaris has taken complete possession of the beds, with a creeping rootstock very difficult to eradicate. Children have their own name for this pretty but intrusive little weed — they call it "Butter and Eggs."

I must make it very clear, though, that the annual Linaria is not in the least weedy nor invasive. Another dwarf annual which is winning many friends is Twinkles phlox. This tiny plant, derived from the taller Phlox drummondii, grows to a height of only eight inches and covers itself with a myriad of brightly colored star-shaped blossoms with pointed and fringed petals, and in an endless variety of colors and color combinations. I didn't have too much luck with Twinkles the first year I grew it. Because the seeds were very expensive the first year they came out, I bated them along, sowing them indoors and nursing them along with loving care until big enough to plant out. Under this treatment, the plants grew too tall and too straggly and the flowers were too sparse and wispy-wispy in color, and in disgust I pulled them all up. Since that time, I found out that Twinkles resents coddling, and the proper treatment is to scatter the seeds on the ground outdoors and let it go at that. Under this casual treatment the plants were sturdy and compact, blooming profusely with rich and glowing colors.

JOHN CROSBY Gets the Word from Hams

CTA 102s Just Plain Folks

LONDON—One gleep out of space and the Russians rush into print with all this talk about a super-civilization. Why are we always so ready to make it a super-civilization? Just because it's in outer space? Always those things out there are brighter than we are. Or more malevolent. Or maybe just milder, tastier, and more smoothly packed. But anyway, better. Actually, it's not true. I know the situation up there in CTA 102 very well, having been corresponding by electronic super-sonic radio transmitter with some of the hams up in CTA 102 for many years and I've kept it quiet up to now because — well, it was anti-climatic.

astronauts whirling around the Earth and all that. They can't, XN said simply, "Why do it?" do it, too. They just don't do it. I've been unable to answer this. When I asked why they didn't do it, too. They just don't do it. I've been unable to answer this. When I asked why they didn't do it, too. They just don't do it. I've been unable to answer this.

But the ironic thing about it all is that, while we went yammering on about their super-civilization, they—well very recently, as I shall explain—thought we were a super-civilization. Scientists up there had us under their telescopes for centuries. They had, for centuries, seen our road systems and they had constructed all sorts of marvellously ingenious theories about what they were — all wrong, but damned clever. Their scientists, on the basis of a few faint gleeps which their early primitive radio telescopes had listened to, had postulated, by magnificent deductive reasoning, an advanced civilization on Earth, beggaring everything else in the universe.

The trouble with all you Earth people, say the CTA 102's, is that you want either to find a super-culture, or you want a sub-culture that you can sneer at. Actually, the civilization on CTA 102 is neither super nor sub. It's pretty ordinary, differing from Earth's largely in aims. They haven't any. Or not much. They're just ordinary people up there, worried, like us, about their complexion problems. Well, you wouldn't like it either if you were green, would you now? Technically, they are neither ahead of nor behind us. They are exactly abreast. But the difference, as I say, is in objectives. They haven't any. For instance, they have had the capability of television for some hundreds of years now. But before jumping into television, they've been waiting for something to come along important enough or interesting enough to broadcast. So far nothing has. They are very impressed with our puny efforts in outer space

ART BUCHWALD
To Pegasus Rose
WASHINGTON—Word has come in via Tass, the Soviet news agency, that some Soviet scientists believe that radio emissions they have been hearing from outer space are being sent by "rational beings" living on some distant planet. The wave length CTA-102 on which the emissions are broadcast is being listened to with much interest and, while it will probably be denied, the first program from the constellation Pegasus has been monitored and decoded. It went like this: "Hello, Earthmen. This is Pegasus Rose and I'm speaking to you tonight to tell you that your explorations into space are provocative and dangerous. The rational beings of Pegasus do not intend to sit idly by while the people on Earth colonize the entire planetary system. We have been watching you for some time and we must warn you that 1,000,000,000,000 freedom-loving galaxies will repulse any invasion from your planet, even if it means all-out war in space. Our constellation is made up of peace-loving planets committed to raising the standard of living for reasonable beings everywhere. But we will not allow foreign intervention. Our revered leader, Astrostorm XII, said in a speech last night that if Earth continues its efforts to explore space he will be forced to escalate and will send 2,000,000,000 volunteers to defend the planetary system. He told them that Pegasus seeks nothing for itself, but it is obligated to come to the aid of its allies. He explained that under the domino theory, if Earth managed to conquer one solar system, another system would fall and then another and before long every galaxy would be enslaved. He called for immediate negotiations with the parties involved. He said it was essential that the solar systems be neutralized. If the leaders failed to agree, Astrostorm warned it might mean the end of the universe as we know it. Needless to say, Pegasus has the most terrifying weapons ever invented by reasonable beings. Our cosmic bomb can obliterate your Milky Way in less than one year. We have gasess in our system which can destroy not only your planet but every planet in your system. I especially appeal to the mothers of Earth to beseech the leader of your planet to stop these foolish adventures that could only bring disaster to everyone. This is Pegasus Rose, broadcasting from station CTA-102."

Earthlings, according to those deductions (all from a couple of gleeps), wrote symphonies, constructed suspension bridges as much as a mile long, wrote great tragedies in invisible pentameter. Then a Professor ZLN invented a radio telescope, atom-powered, ion-patterned, non-oscillating, that could bring in not just gleeps but—well, CBS, Channel 2. The whole bit. What he specifically brought in was The Beverly Hillbillies. This, of course, threw scientific opinion into a complete talspin. Scientists who had for years written pieces about the Earthlings' advanced civilization—symphonies, my foot!—took it all back. Obviously, through some error in deduction of maybe just in arithmetic, they had postulated a civilization on earth 4,000 — or maybe 4,000,000—years ahead of itself. When I try to tell my ham friend XN that we do too have symphonies, we do build suspension bridges a mile long, he just laughs. It sounds, from a billion light-years away, just like gleep. In fact, it was that sardonic gleep that got the Russian scientists all in a tizzy in the first place.

REX HARRISON Talks to SHEILAH GRAHAM

How My Fair Lady Was Born

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—"How did My Fair Lady get started?" said Rex Harrison, repeating my question. "I must say that in the beginning it was a most visionary project. It wasn't even called My Fair Lady; it was called Lady Liza. "The one number which was in the show at that time which was kept was The Rain in Spain. Instead of Ordinary Man, which was written later, I had a number called Please Don't Marry Me, which was thrown out. Lerner and Loewe wrote Lowly while they were in London. I didn't have Why Can't A Woman Be More Like A Man or Accustomed to Her Face; in fact, I didn't have anything. That's why I deliberated for so long about doing the show. "Several factors were involved in my decision to do it," Rex continued. "First, there was Shaw, and the fact that I had guarantees in my contract that certain passages of Shaw would remain. The key passages of Shaw would be there whatever happened. The second factor was genuine faith in the talents of Alan Lerner. He impressed me tremendously and the lyrics he had done were good. I spent about three weeks trying to make up my mind and finally decided to tackle it. "When it came to the music for me we were faced with rather a serious limitation—my range. Often we would sit around the piano and all sing Gilbert and Sullivan together. What Loewe was doing was listening to which notes I could sing and which ones I couldn't. It turned out that my range was about two notes, so they did the numbers around those two notes—three at the most. Rex told me that after that, Lerner and Loewe went away and, on the strength of having obtained his signature, went to Julie Andrews and signed her. "I was in a show in London called Bell, Book and Candle and they were away about six months," Rex said. "When they came back, they had fresh material: Ordinary Man and Why Can't The English. "I started to work on those two numbers and eventually I flew to New York around Christmas of 1954. They finally told me that my last number was finished. They would bring it over to me in a day or two. I remember going to Alan's house (he had a sort of basement studio) and they went over I've Grown Accustomed To Her Face. I thought it was simply marvellous. "We went into rehearsal without Why Can't A Woman Be More Like A Man but everyone thought that there was rather a hole in Higgins' character because I had nothing much to do between the first number of the second act until the last number. To remedy this, they wrote Why Can't A Woman Be More Like A Man while we were in rehearsal. "I've always been fascinated by the fact that the part of Higgins was originally written for a woman. We have Shaw's letters to prove it. He was very enamored of a lady called Mrs. Patrick Campbell, who was one of England's finest actresses and he wrote the part for her. "Later the letters between Mrs. Campbell and Shaw were published. When he tried to get the play produced he had trouble casting the man's part, so he eventually reversed the roles. "He finally got one of the leading actors of the day to do it. That was Mr. Herbert Tree. After much travail, Shaw managed to persuade Tree to do it in his own theatre. "They had terrible rows in rehearsal because Tree wanted to have a happy ending, more or less as we have now in the musical. Tree wanted to give some indication to the audience that Eliza and Higgins might get together. Shaw wouldn't have it. In fact, Shaw's play ends up on the extraordinary note—'Marry Freddie, ha! ha! ha!' was the curtain line."

Farewell Concert By Marian

NEW YORK, April 19 (UPI)—The voice that had once been black velvet was worn a bit thin, but it was still beautiful and more intensely expressive than any that has come along in the past 40 years.

This was Marian Anderson in her farewell concert at Carnegie Hall Sunday. She may sing again on occasion, but never again for nearly two hours of demanding repertory ranging from Handel through Haydn and Schubert to Samuel Barber.

The one thing that kept the audience from the tears that usually accompany vocal farewells was the general belief that this could not and should not be the end. Even Sol Hurok, the fatherly impresario who brought the Philadelphia Negro singer back from European successes to acclaim in her own country in 1935, said, "She must not stop singing."

She got standing ovations time and time again, especially after such encores as "When Israel Was in Egypt's Land," Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Saint-Saens' "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," all sung with eyes closed and hands clasped in dramatic transport as was her custom.

CGIT Dedication

For 50th anniversary of CGIT, Victoria members gathered in Beacon Hill Park Easter Sunday morning to dedicate sugar maple tree, near Rose Gardens. Girls also re-dedicated themselves to Christian life as each placed daffodil on cross.—(William Boucher)

At McPherson Playhouse

Piano Concerts Planned

A lunch-time concert series at McPherson Playhouse planned for three days a week beginning May 3, has been extended to five days a week.

Promoter Kenneth Gravenor, who ran this type of concert successfully in Australian cities, said indications of good popular support prompted him to book the theatre for five days a week.

Two pianos, suitable for concerts featuring dual pianists, have been supplied by George Willis, Willis Music Studios.

BLOCKS OF TICKETS

Mr. Willis is also among downtown businessmen who are taking blocks of tickets to support the concerts.

The promoter says "We don't want amateur hour performances. We want real professionals, and we will aim for quality."

Mr. Gravenor said: "There is a lot of talent in Victoria, but there is no place to show it. We give too much time to mediocrity, like someone who can stand on his head and play the accordion."

"Because of this, our top artists have to go to the United States."

TWO-BIT SHOWS

The admission price will be 25 cents. "These are two-bit concerts, but they will be top calibre."

Mr. Gravenor said there will be little "long-hair" atmosphere.

Final Cut

Manager 'Deserts' Mop-Tops

MADRID (Reuters) — "This isn't the monkey house at the zoo. Get your hair cut ... or get out."

These were the words of U.S. Air Force base commander Col. Richard Hughes Sunday when he inspected six young British rock 'n' roll musicians who had come to play at the Strategic Air Command base at Torrejon.

The young British rock 'n' roll musicians had spent nearly a year cultivating their impressive long hair.

But when they reached the end of their 1,000-mile trip to the Strategic Air Command base, the boys, who call themselves The Ricochets, had their mop-hair style bounce back on them.

"The long hair is part of our act," pleaded Tommy Bishop, 21-year-old leader and vocalist. But the base commander refused to change his tune.

And, after sounding a wall to their manager back in London, The Ricochets got a telegram from him: "Haircut essential or instant dismissal."

"We had no choice," said Bishop.

They sadly lined up to have their hair cut by Bishop, who was a barber before they went into the beat business.

Boy's Curiosity Brings Deluge

PLYMOUTH, England (UPI)—The curtain was about to go up on a Boy Scout show at the Palace Theatre here when an inquisitive youngster spotted an interesting-looking lever backstage and hauled on it.

Down came 250 gallons of water from a fire-fighting device, dousing the lights and putting all the microphones out of order.

U.S. Couple Robs Church of $5,000

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police Monday hunted for a man and woman who posed as a couple with marital problems to enter a church rectory and steal $5,000 in Easter collection receipts.

The two brandished a small revolver after gaining entrance to the rectory of St. Raphael's Roman Catholic Church Sunday night. They handcuffed a middle-aged housekeeper and a teen-aged volunteer worker to a chair.

Police said the man was tall, the woman brunette. Both were about 35 years old.

They forced a priest to lead them to a room where the Easter collections were kept and warned him not to call police for at least 15 minutes. Then they grabbed the cash and fled.

Terrorist Bombs Bar 11 Killed, Four Hurt

SAIGON (Reuters)—Eleven Vietnamese were killed and four American servicemen injured Monday night when a terrorist bomb exploded in a bar at Ban Thout, 100 miles northeast of Saigon. (See Page 3.)

An American civilian government employee and two Vietnamese were shot dead while they were driving outside Saigon.

Surging Floods Rip New Hole In River Dike

CHICAGO (AP)—Mississippi River floodwaters tore a 75-foot hole Monday in a dike near La Crosse, Wis., and a gasoline storage tank complex was quickly flooded. Water began inundating the nearby La Crosse Municipal Airport.

The waters showed a gasoline tank-filled with over 100,000 gallons—into a precarious lean. A gasoline slick quickly filmed the waters.

The water covered a five-block residential area, pushing 20 more families from their homes. It is mired under.

EMERGENCY CALL

The bureau's last phone report said the river had hit 17.1 feet at 11 a.m. and would be at 17.6 feet today. An 18-foot crest is expected to arrive Wednesday and not subside until Friday.

An emergency call for 300 additional volunteers to help fill weak spots in sandbag dikes was issued earlier in the day. National Guardsmen in the city of 47,000 began patrolling Sunday night with shouldered rifles to discourage vandals who have been stealing sand and putting out work lights.

The flood, building up the last two weeks, already has made an estimated 40,000 persons homeless and caused property damage estimated at nearly $60,000,000 in Minnesota and Wisconsin alone.

Thirteen deaths have been attributed to the floods this far, 11 in Minnesota and two in Wisconsin.

At Winona, Minn., a city of 25,000 about 120 miles south of Minneapolis-St. Paul, between 1,500 and 2,000 volunteers worked around the clock adding sandbags to weak spots in the dikes.

DIKES THREATENED

A crest of 21.5 feet, which is 8.5 feet above flood level, is expected at Winona today. The Mississippi there already had passed the 21-foot stage Monday.

Other Minnesota river communities also prepared to meet the cresting waters.

In Madison, Wis., Governor Warren P. Knowles said he had requested $3,500,000 and other relief from the federal government to aid victims of the flood and tornadoes that caused extensive damage a week earlier.

They Went Hairy In 'Space'

Unshaven and unshowered but happy after emerging Monday from cylindrical chambers where they spent 24 days in a simulated journey into space are Lieut. Richard Phipps, left, and Lieut. Kenneth Jurgen, two of eight U.S. navy and marine aviators who also worked and slept in pressure suits during the experiment at Philadelphia navy yard. (AP)

New U.S. Move Stalls Air Pact

MONTREAL (CP)—The United States has thrown a new monkey wrench into attempts to seal a worldwide agreement on commercial air fares.

The issue is the same one that has plagued the proposed agreement for months, namely, efforts to ban in-flight entertainment from the world's commercial carriers.

An agreement incorporating both the ban on movies and other in-flight amusements and the relatively unchanged fares schedule has been accepted by the 82 member airlines of the International Air Transport Association and was to go into effect April 27.

STALL CERTAIN

All that remained was the approval of member governments, often considered a formality since the airlines themselves have reached agreement.

Now, however, comes word that the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board has called hearings for May 3 to "hear representations on the question of in-flight entertainment."

The announcement is certain to stall U.S. approval of the IATA agreement and thus put off again a pact originally to have gone into effect April 1.

Sources at IATA headquarters

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission filed suit Monday against 13 officers, directors and employees of Texas Gulf Sulphur, charging that "insiders" bought the company's stock without telling the shareholders of a rich copper ore strike in Canada.

France Plans To Quit SEATO

BANGKOK, Thailand (Reuters)—France is expected to withdraw completely from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization within the next few days, usually reliable sources here said today.

France has been at odds with its SEATO allies, principally over the issue of the war in Viet Nam.

UNACCEPTABLE

The French proposal of neutralization of Indochina has been unacceptable to the United States and the two Asian allies of SEATO—Thailand and the Philippines.

The sources said an official announcement of the withdrawal was expected shortly.

ONLY OBSERVE

As a preliminary step, the French ambassador here and permanent representative to SEATO, Achille Claret, has informed the SEATO secretary-general that France will send only an observer to the forthcoming ministerial council meeting in London.

Normally France would be represented at the meeting by Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

In its complaint, SEC asked that some stock options granted by the company be cancelled and that the defendants be required to return to the corporation all shares of stock or the profits obtained from the exercise of options granted them.

The suit, filed late Monday in federal district court, New York City, named the company itself as a defendant. It charged that the firm issued a "materially false and misleading" press release April 12, 1964, discounting rumors of the find.

The SEC charged also that some of the defendants received stock options from Texas Gulf without having notified the company's board of directors of the discovery of a copper and zinc ore body near Timmins, Ont.

TRUST OFFICIAL

Among those charged were Charles F. Fogarty, executive vice-president and director of Texas Gulf; Richard D. Mollison, another vice-president, and Thomas S. Lamont, a director of Texas Gulf and vice chairman of Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, New York.

The vast Texas Gulf strike of ore containing zinc, lead, copper and silver near Timmins, Ont., was announced a year ago this month.

Amounts of ore have been placed at 35,000,000 tons and estimates of its value have ranged as high as $2,000,000,000.

Claude O. Stephens, president, said that during the last year the company's officers, directors and a number of key employees have co-operated fully with the SEC in an exhaustive investigation of all aspects of this case.

COMPANY PREPARED

Stephens said that while he had not had an opportunity to study the complaint, the company is fully prepared to show that the company's conduct has been both legally and morally correct.

Not named as defendant but mentioned in the complaint as having benefited from a second-hand tip about the stock's probable rise was Herbert Klotz, an assistant U.S. commerce secretary.

Second Body Found

TERRACE BAY, Ont. (CP)—Workmen clearing the wreckage of a passenger train which was derailed during the weekend near this northwestern Ontario community discovered the body of a man Monday in a rear diesel unit.

It brought to two the death toll in the derailment of the CPR's transcontinental passenger train, the Canadian.

Charles Kannebesser, 38, of Fort William, a CPR baggage-man, was killed and 47 persons were injured, some seriously, when the train jumped the tracks in early morning darkness Saturday.

Ontario Provincial Police in nearby Schreiber said the man found Monday was in his 50s. His identity was withheld.

The twin-diesel locomotive and nine cars of the 14-car train tumbled from the tracks after hitting a cave-in on the line. The derailed and six cars rolled down a 100-foot embankment.

Murder Suspect Commits Suicide

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Russell Spears, a wily woodsman adept at avoiding the law, died by his own hand Monday.

Spears, wanted on a charge of capital murder in the slaying of an RCMP officer, shot himself on a farm near here after being cornered by RCMP Constable George Hawkins and attacked by his dog, Prince.

The 50-year-old man, who had used his knowledge of woods to dodge police for a week following the shooting of Const. Neil Bruce, 36, and a 17-year-old girl, was spotted by Mrs. Maynard Haskell as he crept into a 20-foot clearing near her house.

"It was an act of God," said RCMP Const. Ken Jones who was involved in the shooting incident that resulted in the death of Const. Bruce.

"She could not have seen him at any other spot. The area surrounding the Haskell's 28 acres of land is heavily wooded."

TELEPHONED POLICE

Mrs. Haskell's husband telephoned police at Kelowna, seven miles away and Spears was flushed out of a clump of trees by a police dog which attacked him. The fugitive put his .22-calibre rifle to his head and fired.

The time was 7:12 a.m., almost exactly the same time that the Kelowna police headquarters received a report on April 10 that Beverly Charest was being held against her will at a cabin at Westbank, across Okanagan Lake from here.

UNABLE TO TALK

Const. Bruce and Const. Jones went to investigate. Const. Bruce was shot through the chest and the girl was shot through the jaw. The girl is in hospital here, unable to talk. She has given a written statement to police.

Since April 10 Spears was the object of an intense hunt by police using aircraft and dogs. Constables from several detachments joined the hunt, their determination bolstered by Const. Bruce's death last Wednesday.

Steelworkers Cut Down Pay Demand

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The United Steelworkers Union has asked the steel industry for a one-year contract providing a 17.8 cent an hour wage increase, it was learned Monday night.

The contract represented a "dramatic comedown" from the union's original demand of about 60 cents an hour for each year of a three-year agreement, a reliable source said.

The union expected to have an answer from the industry by Thursday, the source said. The union has set a May 1 strike deadline.

Earlier Monday, union president David J. McDonald summoned the union's executive board and 170-member wage policy committee into session Thursday.

Four Hurt In Crash

CHEMUNUS — Four people were taken to hospital here Monday night after a head-on two-car collision on the highway near Duncan. Injuries of Mrs. Charles Webster of Chemunus, her two young sons and Lewis Harvey of Sidney were not believed to be serious.

He said the U.S. weather bureau has revised its forecast peak for Drayton, N.D., 35 miles south of the border, a rise of only one-fifth of a foot in five hours. Flood stage at this border town of 900 is 783.2 feet.

Winnipeg — The Red was steady all day at 20.8 feet above winter average ice level. City engineer W. D. Hurst said the city's dikes are in excellent condition. Secondary dikes protect to 24 feet, one foot above the peak expected next Saturday, and have been raised by sandbags.

Emerson — The Red reached 782.88 feet above sea level, a rise of only one-fifth of a foot in five hours. Flood stage at this border town of 900 is 783.2 feet.

Wingless Wing Commanders

OTTAWA (CP)—A long concealed agitation within the RCAF for adoption of a new rank nomenclature has come out into the open — in the RCAF's own magazine, The Roundel.

"If integration of Canada's armed forces does nothing more than eliminate the rank titles in the air force it will have achieved much," writes Sqdn. Ldr. L. C. (Mo) Morrison, RCAF information officer at North American Air Defence Command headquarters, Colorado Springs, Colo.

He points out that there are wing commanders who don't command wings, group captains without groups, squadron leaders who have never been foolies, a pilot officer who is a navigator," Canadian airmen serving abroad have for years been irked by questions, not only from civilians but from NATO and other military personnel, about the meaning of their rank insignia and titles. The RCAF's insignia and titles are taken from the Royal Air Force.

Officials say integration may eventually result in a uniform rank nomenclature as well as a single uniform for the navy, army and RCAF but that such a move isn't imminent.

NORAD headquarters has reprinted Morrison's Roundel article in its own publication and proves Morrison's point by explaining parenthetically that a squadron leader is the equivalent in rank to a major.

Fairbridge Farmer Says:

B.C. Dairy Farmers Slack Advertisers

DUNCAN — Okanagan dairy farmers have promised to consider more aid for a nation-wide advertising scheme for dairy products, Fairbridge dairy farmer Archie Stevenson said Monday.

Mr. Stevenson disclosed he spoke to the recent annual meeting in Vernon of the South Okanagan Dairy Association as Vancouver Island regional director of the national dairy food bureau, which started the advertising plan almost two years ago.

He said many farmers across Canada agreed to the bureau's request for a contribution to advertising of one-quarter per cent of their production income, 25 cents for every $100.

But B.C. and Quebec are failing to support the scheme.

In fact, said Mr. Stevenson, B.C. farmers should contribute twice as much to fall in line with other provinces.

The B.C. farmers last year gave $38,677 where they could have given twice as much and still made a profit from the advertising scheme.

Condition Serious

NANAIMO — Three-year-old Stephen Hart was in serious condition Monday in hospital here with head and spleen injuries received Saturday in three-car pileup on the George Pearson Bridge.

Police said he fell out of a car driven by his mother, Mrs. David Hart, 375 Vancouver Avenue. The other drivers were Frank W. Gregory, 2565 Holyrood Avenue, and Allan Roy Frechette, 701 Park Avenue.

Other provincial totals last year were Alberta $85,111, Saskatchewan $46,168, Manitoba $48,376, Ontario $323,981, Quebec $110,427, New Brunswick $13,888, Nova Scotia $15,529 and Prince Edward Island $12,543.

Mr. Stevenson said all provinces but B.C. and Quebec are backing the scheme by as much as 50 to 100 per cent.

He said B.C. received $2 worth of advertising to stimulate dairy products sales for every dollar given.

$800,000 OBJECTIVE

The bureau, whose headquarters are in Toronto, spent $700,391 on advertising last year and this year's objective is $800,000.

Mr. Stevenson said many dairies have agreed to act as collecting agency for donations from individual farmers.

He will take his case to a meeting of Nanaimo area dairymen in the near future.

Missionary Doctored Sick, Fought Devil

Stern Minister Even Listed Salt Spring Cannibal

By BEA HAMILTON

FULFORD — St. Mary's Anglican Church, where the 72nd Easter service Sunday was conducted by present rector Ven. Archdeacon R. B. Horsfield, was founded by one of the most colorful missionaries in Canadian history.

There are few left to remember Rev. Edward Francis Wilson, an imposing figure who became rector of Salt Spring Island diocese in 1894, one year after his arrival from eastern Canada.

His story deserves repeating.

Indian Homes

Mr. Wilson was greatly interested in the welfare of all people and had just come from an active career of missionary work among the Indians of the Great Lakes, where he left a lasting history of his deeds.

He founded the Shingwauk Indian home in Ontario and several similar homes in other parts of Canada. Two were at Elkhorn, Man., where the principal was one of his 12 children, Archie Wilson.

He wrote a Manual of the Ojibway Language, was a co-editor of the Canadian Indian edited the Algoma Missionary News, wrote a paper called Our Forest Children and painted portraits of several Indian chiefs.

Choristers Heather and Sharon McMunn, Wendy Messop, Pat Stewart

Mr. Wilson was on hand when the Riel Rebellion was in full force in 1885. He knew Big Bear, the Berce chief of the Cree Indians, who led the massacre at Frog Lake that year. His painting of Big Bear is still that is left of the Wilson family actions from the early settlers.

A flowing black beard, as well as the traditional black clerical clothes, made him a striking figure as he preached or drove his horse and buggy from north to south of Salt Spring.

At Fulford, he found a church was needed, so a church they would have.

He hustled all the able-bodied men together into community bees and started them on St. Mary's in 1894, the year he conducted the first Easter service.

The few who remember his sermons each Sunday say Mr. Wilson's life was a constant battle against the devil.

Two Kinds

He knew there were only two places for man, heaven and hell, and knew there were only two kinds of people, Christians and sinners.

He knew what the majority was, to his sorrow, and told the sinners exactly where they were heading if they persisted. And he meant it.

When Mr. Wilson wasn't preaching, he was driving to remote places to take medicine to some sick person. Another of his many accomplishments was a great knowledge of medicine.

Founder

Through him, much of the island history is preserved, even to the number of people and nationalities of the early days.

Cannibal Gone

He put them all down in a little book—169 English-Canadians, 50 Scotch, 20 Irish, 22 Portuguese, 13 Swedes, four Germans, two Norwegians, 34

Americans, 50 mixed-Indians, 40 colored, six Sandwich Islanders, 10 Japanese, one Egyptian, two Greeks, one Patagonian and one cannibal! Population—450.

Today there are about 2,500 people—and no cannibals.

Mr. Wilson listed the churches in order:

St. Nicholas, 1864, a converted schoolhouse or home; St. Paul's Catholic Church in Fulford, 1890; the Union Church in Burgoyne Valley, 1887; St. Mark's on the Vesuvius crossroads, 1898, and St. Mary's in 1894.

Two Survive

Descendants of Mr. Wilson, who used to call his 12 children "six of one and half a dozen of the other," still live on the island and Vancouver Island.

Two of the children survive, Mrs. Keith Wilson and Mrs. Frank Scott, both of Ladysmith. The most exciting and spectacular episode in St. Mary's history had nothing to do with Mr. Wilson, the never-to-be-forgotten little mouse who dropped in on a visiting bishop a few years ago.

Mighty Mouse

It was the nearest thing to a stampede the little church has ever known.

Though the mouse will have forgotten about it, people who come to church still ask "How's the mouse?"

Surging Floods Rip New Hole In River Dike

CHICAGO (AP)—Mississippi River floodwaters tore a 25-foot hole Monday in a dike near La Crosse, Wis., and a gasoline storage tank complex was quickly flooded. Water began inundating the nearby La Crosse Municipal Airport.

The waters showed a gasoline tank-filled with over 100,000 gallons—into a precarious lean. A gasoline slick quickly filled the waters.

The water covered a five-block residential area, pushing 20 more families from their homes. It immersed under-

EMERGENCY CALL

The bureau's last phone report said the river had hit 17.1 feet at 11 a.m. and would be at 17.6 feet today. An 18-foot crest is expected to arrive Wednesday and not subside until Friday.

An emergency call for 200 additional volunteers to help fill weak spots in sliding dikes was issued earlier in the day. National Guardsmen in the city of 47,000 began patrolling Sunday night with shoulder rifles to discourage vandals who have been stealing sand and putting out work lights.

Rolling Red River Rises Tiny Fraction

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Red River rolled along under sunny skies Monday, rising almost imperceptibly toward flood crests expected later in the week.

The official outlook became a little more optimistic during the weekend as ideal weather continued, but Premier Duff Roblin told the legislature Monday flooding of 1948 proportions still can be expected with heavy inundations at Emerson and Elgin in the southern valley.

He said the U.S. weather bureau has revised its forecast peak for Drayton, N.D., 35 miles south of the border, to 48.5 from 39.5 feet.

PEAK APRIL 24
The forecast for the border town of Pembina had been increased by three feet and the peak was expected April 24.

For Emerson and Morris, estimates remained for a flood level slightly higher than that of 1948 which means two-thirds of the population will be flooded out.

The first mass evacuation went off smoothly Monday as 254 Indians from the southern Red River valley left their reserve, in danger of being flooded out or isolated by rising waters.

MONDAY PICTURE

This was the picture Monday afternoon:

Emerson—The Red reached 32.58 feet above sea level, a rise of only one-fifth of a foot in five hours. Flood stage at this border town of 500 is 33.2 feet.

Morris —River level was 38.29 feet, a barely-measurable drop during the same period. Flood stage is 39.4 feet.

Winnipeg — The Red was steadily all day at 20.8 feet above winter average ice level. City engineer W. D. Blust said the city's dikes are in excellent condition. Secondary dikes protect to 24 feet, one foot above the peak expected next Saturday, and have been raised by sandbags.

STOCK KILLING CHARGED IN ORE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission filed suit Monday against 13 officers, directors and employees of Texas Gulf Sulphur, charging that "insiders" bought the company's stock without telling the shareholders of a rich copper ore strike in Canada.

France Plans To Quit SEATO

BANGKOK, Thailand (Reuters)—France is expected to withdraw completely from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization within the next few days, usually reliable sources here said today.

France has been at odds with its SEATO allies, principally over the issue of the war in Viet Nam.

UNACCEPTABLE

The French proposal of neutralization of Indochina has been unacceptable to the United States and the two Asian allies of SEATO—Thailand and the Philippines.

The sources said an official announcement of the withdrawal was expected shortly.

ONLY OBSERVER

As a preliminary step, the French ambassador here and permanent representative to SEATO, Achille Claret, has informed the SEATO secretary-general that France will send only an observer to the forthcoming ministerial council meeting in London.

Normally France would be represented at the meeting by Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

In its complaint, SEC asked that some stock options granted by the company be cancelled and that the defendants be required to return to the corporation all shares of stock or the profits obtained from the exercise of options granted them.

The suit, filed late Monday in federal district court, New York City, named the company itself as a defendant. It charged that the firm issued a "materially false and misleading" press release April 12, 1964, discounting rumors of the find.

The SEC charged also that some of the defendants received stock options from Texas Gulf without having notified the company's board of directors of the discovery of a copper and zinc ore body near Timmins, Ont.

TRUST OFFICIAL

Among those charged were Charles F. Fogarty, executive vice-president and director of Texas Gulf; Richard D. Molison, another vice-president; and Thomas S. Lamont, a director of Texas Gulf and vice chairman of Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, New York.

The vast Texas Gulf strike of ore containing zinc, lead, copper and silver near Timmins, Ont., was announced a year ago this month.

Amounts of ore have been placed at 50,000,000 tons and estimates of its value have ranged as high as $2,000,000,000.

Claude O. Stephens, president, said that during the last year the company's officers, directors and a number of key employees have co-operated fully with the SEC in an exhaustive investigation of all aspects of this case.

COMPANY PREPARED

Stephens said that while he had not had an opportunity to study the complaint, the company is fully prepared to show that the company's conduct has been both legally and morally correct.

Not named as defendant but mentioned in the complaint as having benefited from a second-hand tip about the stock's probable rise was Herbert Klotz, an assistant U.S. commerce secretary.

Second Body Found

TERRACE BAY, Ont. (CP)—Workers clearing the wreckage of a passenger train which was derailed during the weekend near this northwestern Ontario community discovered the body of a man Monday in a rear diesel unit.

It brought to two the death toll in the derailment of the CPR's transcontinental passenger train, the Canadian.

Charles Kamegessier, 38, of Fort William, a CPR baggage-man, was killed and 47 persons were injured, some seriously, when the train jumped the tracks in early morning darkness Saturday.

Ontario Provincial Police in nearby Schreiber said the man found Monday was in his 50s. His identity was withheld.

The twin-diesel locomotive and nine cars of the 14-car train tumbled from the tracks after hitting a cave-in on the line. The diesels and six cars rolled down a 100-foot embankment.

Murder Suspect Commits Suicide

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Russell Spears, a wily woodsman adept at avoiding the law, died by his own hand Monday.

Spears, wanted on a charge of capital murder in the slaying of an RCMP officer, shot himself on a farm near here after being cornered by RCMP Constable George Hawkins and attacked by his dog, Prince.

The 50-year-old man, who had used his knowledge of woods-craft to dodge police for a week following the shooting of Const. Neil Bruce, 36, and a 17-year-old girl, was spotted by Mrs. Maynard Haskell as he crossed a 20-foot clearing near her house.

"It was an act of God," said RCMP Const. Ken Jones who was involved in the shooting incident that resulted in the death of Const. Bruce.

"She could not have seen him at any other spot. The area surrounding the Haskell's 25 acres of land is heavily wooded."

TELEPHONED POLICE

Mrs. Haskell's husband telephoned police at Kelowna, seven miles away and Spears was flushed out of a clump of trees by a police dog which attacked him. The fugitive put his .22-calibre rifle to his head and fired.

The time was 7:12 a.m., almost exactly the same time that the Kelowna police headquarters received a report on April 10 that Beverly Charest was being held against her will at a cabin at Westbank, across Okanagan Lake from here.

UNABLE TO TALK

Const. Bruce and Const. Jones went to investigate. Const. Bruce was shot through the chest and the girl was shot through the jaw. The girl is in hospital here, unable to talk. She has given a written statement to police.

Since April 10 Spears was the object of an intense hunt by police using aircraft and dogs. Constables from several detachments joined the hunt, their determination bolstered by Const. Bruce's death last Wednesday.

Steelworkers Cut Down Pay Demand

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The United Steelworkers Union has asked the steel industry for a one-year contract providing a 17.9-cent an hour wage increase, it was learned Monday night.

The contract represented a "drastic compromise" from the union's original demand of about 30 cents an hour for each year of a three-year agreement, a reliable source said.

The union expected to have an answer from the industry by Thursday, the source said. The union has set a May 1 strike deadline.

Earlier Monday, union president David J. McDonald summoned the union's executive board and 170-member wage policy committee into session Thursday.

New U.S. Move Stalls Air Pact

MONTREAL (CP)—The United States has thrown a new monkey wrench into attempts to seal a worldwide agreement on commercial air fares.

The issue is the same one that has plagued the proposed agreement for months, namely, efforts to ban in-flight entertainment from the world's commercial carriers.

An agreement incorporating both the ban on movies and other in-flight gimmicks and the relatively unchanged fares schedule has been accepted by the 82 member airlines of the International Air Transport Association and was to go into effect April 27.

STALL CERTAIN

All that remained was the approval of member governments, often considered a formality once the airlines themselves have reached agreement.

Now, however, comes word that the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board has called hearings for May 3 to "hear representations on the question of in-flight entertainment." The announcement is certain to stall U.S. approval of the IATA agreement and thus put off again a pact originally to have gone into effect April 1.

Sources at IATA headquarters

here say the C.A.B. move will mean a new round of consultations and probably another mail vote of member airlines and governments to keep the current fares agreement in effect until the new one is proclaimed. The C.A.B. gave no indication when it might wind up its hearings on in-flight entertainment, thus leaving IATA with no real idea how long it will have to suspend the already overdue agreement.

'Ban on TV Not Legal'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposed ban on in-flight movies and television would violate U.S. anti-trust laws and deprive the public of legitimate entertainment, says the industrial products division of Sony Corporation of America.
